deployment of U. N. troops.

The United Nations officially denied reports originating in Elisabethville that U. N. planes bombed and strafed three towns in Kivu Province Friday. Elisabethville reports said the planes "completely destroyed" the towns of Sambu, Pangl and Kobongo.

After the reports circulated, Colonel Pakassa, commander of the rebellious troops in Kindu, issued orders to his troops to fire on all planes that fly over the region. A U. N. spokesman said the Elisabethville bombing reports were as irresponsible as telling fire in a crowded movie house.

The United Nations announced that Congolese troops had been cleared out of Luluabourg airport in adjoining Katanga Province to give the world body "full freedom of action" in its buildup of military forces for enforcement and punishment of the Katanga mutineers.

Reliable reports said Congolese soldiers surrounded the airport buildings at Luluabourg within hours of the news last Thursday of the murder of the Italians and had prevented U. N. flights from the town for the last three days. The Luluabourg airfield is important for the reinforcement of the U. N. garrison at Kindu.

The sources said there was evidence that the Luluabourg troops had been in radio contact with the mutinous Kindu force.

Antoine Gizenga, the Soviet supported leftist, is suspected of having ignited the Kindu butchery last Saturday in a bid to stir up a widespread mutiny against the central government and build up a new rebel movement. He was reported now traveling in Kindu Province, trying to whip up personal support.

Sources sympathetic to Gizenga, who claims to be the political heir of the late Premier Patrice Lumumba, said he was wearing the military uniform of a corporal on his rounds in an effort to give himself the common touch.

Other sources hostile to Gizenga said he had put on the uniform of a field marshal—plattering with stars and gold braid—in an effort to outrank Maj. Gen. Joseph Mobutu, Congo army chief, President Joseph Kasavubu, and Gen. Victor Lundula, Lumumba's former army.

U. N. headquarters said it still had no reliable information on the whereabouts of Gizenga, but believed he still was in or around Kindu.

Motorcycle

The West Monroe Police Department has bought a new motorcycle to replace one badly damaged in a collision with a car about a week ago. Figures on repairing the old cycle ran to around $800, so the city council authorized purchase of another. The new job is a 1960 model two-wheeler. Its cost was not mentioned but aldermen said it was bought at a saving. Except for a little chrome here and there and minor engine modifications, it's supposed to be about the same machine as the later models. A radio already has been installed.

WINNERS IN the square dance contest held here last night are shown being presented cash awards. John Lacy, extreme left, presented the winning awards to Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Amason, representing the first place El Dorado, Ark., square dance club, and to Mr. and Mrs. Ed Jones, representing the Monroe square dance club which placed second. The square dance contest, held at the Virginia Hotel, came as one of the climaxing events to Monroe's 156th Anniversary celebration which has been underway here since Thursday. The observance ended last night. Square dance groups from Northeast Louisiana and Arkansas competed in the contest.

Rusk Warns Schools Swinging Intervention To 'Resegregation' Under Study

A changing neighborhood in Miami, Fla., helped speed one of Dade County's first desegregated schools. Orchard Villa, from an all-white to a predominantly white, to predominantly Negro to all-Negro in 1960.

The survey showed decreases of Negro enrollment in Oklahoma and West Virginia, two border states with considerable desegregation. In Oklahoma, some communities report "Negro children have chosen to remain in unracial schools, despite encouragement from various sources to transfer to biracial schools."

Changes in community populations have caused parallel changes in the racial structure of some schools. Southern School News also quoted Dr. Houston R. Jackson, Negro assistant superintendent of Baltimore schools, as saying some Negro students were "afraid" they would lose class positions and prestige by changing to white schools.

"When the Negroes in a school reach 50 per cent, that's when the white teachers begin to ask for transfers," Jackson was quoted.

Oklahoma City was cited as one city where white schools "were desegregated but became resegregated through a change in the neighborhood's racial makeup."

Rusk's statement apparently constituted a kind of intervention in itself. It implied U. S. readiness to help Balaguer maintain his program for what Rusk calls "democratization." At the same time it constituted a strong warning to the Trujillo brothers of active United States concern with conditions in the Dominican Republic.

It could also be read as a warning to Cuba to keep hands off the Dominican Republic, although officials here insisted there was no real concern at the moment about intervention by Cuba's pro-Communist Premier Fidel Castro.

Officials refused to be specific about the reports an attempt to take over the government might be in the making.

They said they had no information indicating collusion between Rafael Jr. and his uncle.

As to measures which the United States might take, officials said the range of possible action is broad and it would not necessarily be confined to moves within the Organization of American States.

If the present regime at Ciudad Trujillo requested U. S. assistance, officials said they would not rule out the use of force. They also said that the treaty commitments made by the United States in the OAS would not preclude action by the United States alone.

Replying to queries, officials said there was no particular concern in the State Department about possible intervention in the Dominican Republic by pro-Communist forces of Cuba's Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

New Record Set By Airlines Jet

WASHINGTON (AP)—An American Airlines jet with 99 persons aboard sped from Los Angeles to Washington-Baltimore Friendship Airport in 3 hours and 36 minutes Saturday.

The company said the plane, whose top speed was 736 miles an hour, bettered the mark of 3 hours and 39 minutes set by an American Airlines plane with former Vice President Richard M. Nixon aboard Jan. 3, 1960.

Capt. George Finer of Los Angeles was at the controls when the plane took off from Los Angeles at 2 a.m. EST.

day morning. He would have been 80 next January.

The body, dressed in a blue suit, white shirt and dark blue tie lay in state from Friday morning until Saturday. So great was the crush of the hundreds of people who wanted to pay their last respects that the doors of The Sam Rayburn Library were left open longer than planned so all could get in.

The coffin was moved directly from library to church. It was closed and a spray of red roses and fern placed on top of it.

President Kennedy, interrupting a Western speaking tour, flew into Perrin Air Force Base at nearby Denison and rode a helicopter to Bonham. He went directly to the church.

Former President Truman had arrived early and gone to see Rayburn's surviving brother and two sisters at the colonial mansion Rayburn built in 1914 after his first term as congressman.

Former President Eisenhower flew to Perrin and went to Bonham by helicopter.

Goldwater Lashes Out At Kennedy

tary of State Chester Bowles, Ambassador to India John Kenneth Galbraith, presidential adviser Arthur Schlesinger Jr. and President Walter P. Reuther of the United Auto Workers.

"The first 40 wagons in the New Frontier are driven by the Americans for Democratic Action," he said. "These are the people we should be worried about."

"These people are not Democrats," said Goldwater. "The nicest thing we can say about them is that they're Socialists."

"Liberalism has had its day," he said. "Liberalism has been tried and it failed miserably. It has drained the country of money, denied our people of initiative and foisted on us a centralized government which we don't want."

Goldwater attacked the President's appointment of relatives and friends to high government posts, adding, "He ran out of Kennedys, and you know that's hard to do."

He charged that Kennedy and Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson were using Air Force planes for purely political trips. "For the first time in history, federal funds are being used openly for partisan politics."

Goldwater said indecision has damaged U. S. interests in Berlin, Cuba, and the United Nations. He charged the President with making "more blunders in seven months than Harry Truman made in seven years, and Lord knows that was enough."

"One thing you can say about Harry Truman," Goldwater added, "he made a lot of wrong decisions but at least he made decisions."

JFK Urges Shunning Of Extremists

—but they are anxious for the military to engage in politics."

Kennedy's illustrations reflected criticisms sounded by the John Birch Society and ultraconservatives with similar theories on what's best for the country in time of stress. They also clearly referred to the furor aroused by the recent resignation of Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker, who was relieved of his division command in Europe and accused by the Army of propagandizing troops and seeking to influence their votes.

Walker, identified in an Army investigation as a member of the John Birch Society, had questioned the motives of former President Harry S. Truman, U. N. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson and Eleanor Roosevelt, among others. He resigned in order to shake the restraints of "little men," as he put it, and be free to speak out.

After denouncing what he called extremist views, Kennedy said: "But you and I and most Americans take a different view of our peril. We know that it comes from without, not within. It must be met by quiet preparedness, not provocative speeches."

Bids On 3 Plant Units Are Received

RUSTON (Special) — Ruston's city council received bids on the three most important units of the proposed new steam generating plant at a special meeting.

Low bids on the turbo-generator, boiler and condenser for the new plant appeared to be $100,000 under the cost estimate given by Ruston's engineer, E. G. May.

Bids were taken under advisement by the city council and selection of low bidders and awarding of contracts will be made at their regular meeting at 2 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 21, Mayor T. C. Beasley indicated.

May said he would not attempt to name the actual low bidder based on plant requirements, but said that they were very pleased with all the bids.

Bids for the 12,000-KW steam turbine were: DeLaval Steam Turbine, $488,000; Elliott and Company, $616,373; Westinghouse, $538,100; Allis - Chalmers $538,900; General Electric, $473,807.

Bids for the new condenser for the power plant were: Maryland Shipbuilding and Drydock Co., $75,429; Foster - Wheeler Corp., $71,848; A. M. Lockett Co., $71,848; Ingersoll - Rand, $61,230; C. H. Wheeler, $70,700; Westinghouse, $65,540; Allis - Chalmers, $72,000.

Boiler bids were as follows: Foster - Wheeler, $240,130; Combustion Engineering, $238,880; Springfield Boiler Co., $238,777; A. M. Lockett & Co., $273,345; Erie City Iron Works, $274,300; Riley Stoker Corp., $284,301, and Wickes Boiler Co., $289,323.

May's original estimates of costs for the three items was $325,000 for the turbo-generator; $300,000 for the condenser and the steam generator at $600,000.

May indicated that advertisement to go with the plant will be advertised soon, and bids taken about mid-December.

In December the city also plans to advertise for items of electrical equipment to go with the plant receiving bids about Jan. 15.

Finland Chief Offers To Meet Soviet Premier

HELSINKI (UPI)—Finland proposed Saturday President Urho Kekkonen fly to Moscow personally to confer with Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev on Soviet allegations that West Germany threatened peace in the Baltic area.

The decision was taken at an emergency cabinet meeting and was quickly announced by Foreign Minister Ahti Karjalainen. Kekkonen then left town for a weekend of merrymaking in an indication that the situation was not as grave as the Finns feared at first.

Karjalainen asked Soviet Ambassador A. V. Zakharov to convey the Finnish proposal to the Kremlin.

A communique issued after the cabinet meeting said Kekkonen agreed to the government suggestion which did not mention a time for the visit. It said the cabinet suggested that Kekkonen make the trip to Moscow because "of the situation created" by a Soviet ally and confer with Premier Khrushchev on Soviet allegations that West Germany threatened peace in the Baltic area.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Kuznetsov called in Finnish Ambassador Eero Wuori Thursday and asked that Finland send a delegation to Moscow as quickly as possible.

Prime Minister Martti Miettunen said Kuznetsov told him Russia believed the threat of war in the Baltic had increased since the implementation of a 1948 mutual assistance and friendship agreement.

PRESS COURT ACTION

U.S. To Ask Bus Segregation End

GREENVILLE, Miss. (AP)—state courts before going into the Justice Department will ask federal court.

A three-judge federal court here Monday to order Mississippi to a three-judge court would go directly to the U.S. Supreme Court.

The Department filed the suit in an attempt to enforce the Nov. 1 Interstate Commerce Commission ruling that forbids segregation on common carriers or in terminals.

The government contends that Mississippi statutes and signs calling for segregated facilities for interstate passengers were unconstitutional because they violated the equal protection clause of the 14th amendment.

The suit comes on the heels of a 2-1 ruling by a federal court in Jackson that those seeking remedies to segregation in travel facilities must go first through state courts.

Federal Dist. Judges Sidney Mize of Gulfport and Claude Clayton of Tupelo made no decision on the issues involved, but said the principle of routing cases through state courts was supported by U.S. Supreme Court decisions.

Presiding Judge Richard T. Rives of Montgomery, Ala., who is on the U.S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals, issued a dissenting opinion.

He said there are statutes and ordinances which on their face require segregation of the races in any transportation facilities and they should be declared unconstitutional, null and void.

Tuesday another three-judge federal court will hear a similar Justice Department suit in Jackson involving segregation at a McComb bus terminal.

Chief Federal Judge Elbert P. Tuttle of the 2nd Circuit Court of Appeals has changed from the normal procedure of making one appeals judge and two district judges for suits before three judge courts.

Judge Tuttle named himself and Judge Rives to sit on both cases. He appointed Judge Clayton as the third judge at Greenville and Judge Mize for the suit at Jackson.

Many Mississippi lawyers said they thought the change was significant.

The Greenville suit was filed as a class action against Circuit Judge Arthur Clark of Indiana, all county attorneys and district attorneys, the state attorney general and the state of Mississippi.

The action came after Judge Clark granted an injunction prohibiting Greyhound and Lines in Greenwood from removing segregation signs for interstate passengers.

DeLore County Attorney John J. Fraser filed the court order.

Former Gov. J. P. Coleman who is expected to hit the campaign trail again in 1963, has been retained by the Leflore County Bar Association as a special attorney in the case. The other attorneys will be Fraser and Hardy Lott of Greenwood.

The Greenville suit asks the federal court to:

1. Declare unconstitutional state laws requiring segregated facilities for interstate passengers.
2. Stop enforcement of Judge Clark's injunction forbidding the Greyhound bus terminal in Greenwood to comply with the ICC ban on bus terminal segregation.
3. Forbid the installation of segregation signs in terminals.
4. Forbid any type of racial discrimination or undue burden upon passengers in interstate travel.

Mississippi attorneys are expected to take their cue from the decision handed down by Judges Mize and Clayton.

It so they would argue that the Justice Department and the ICC had not exhausted remedies in

Sigler Speaker At Sterlington

Dr. Herman Sigler, director of guidance and testing at Northeast Louisiana State College, spoke to parents, students and faculty at the Sterlington High School Open House and Parents' Night held this week in the school cafeteria.

On the subject of "After High School—Then What?" Dr. Sigler said: "Most every mentally able person should go to college for cultural and intellectual benefits."

The open house was held in cooperation with Louisiana Education Week. Parents visited the classrooms and met the faculty and were hosted for the affair by the Junior Class.

Soviets Boast U.S. Lags In Nuclear Arms

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviets Saturday boasted of what they termed the "unquestionable" superiority of their arsenal of nuclear warheads and rockets. They said Russia had a far greater stockpile of nuclear bombs than the United States ever dreamed. They claimed to have anti-missile missiles, nuclear warheads of up to 100 megatons, and the capability of delivering "any kind of charges" anywhere in the world.

The statements were made in articles by various Soviet officers published in the official Red army newspaper "Red Star" on the eve of Soviet artillery day. "Red Star" devoted 1 1/2 pages of the 6-page issue to the unusual spread on the superiority of Soviet rockets over the rest of the world.

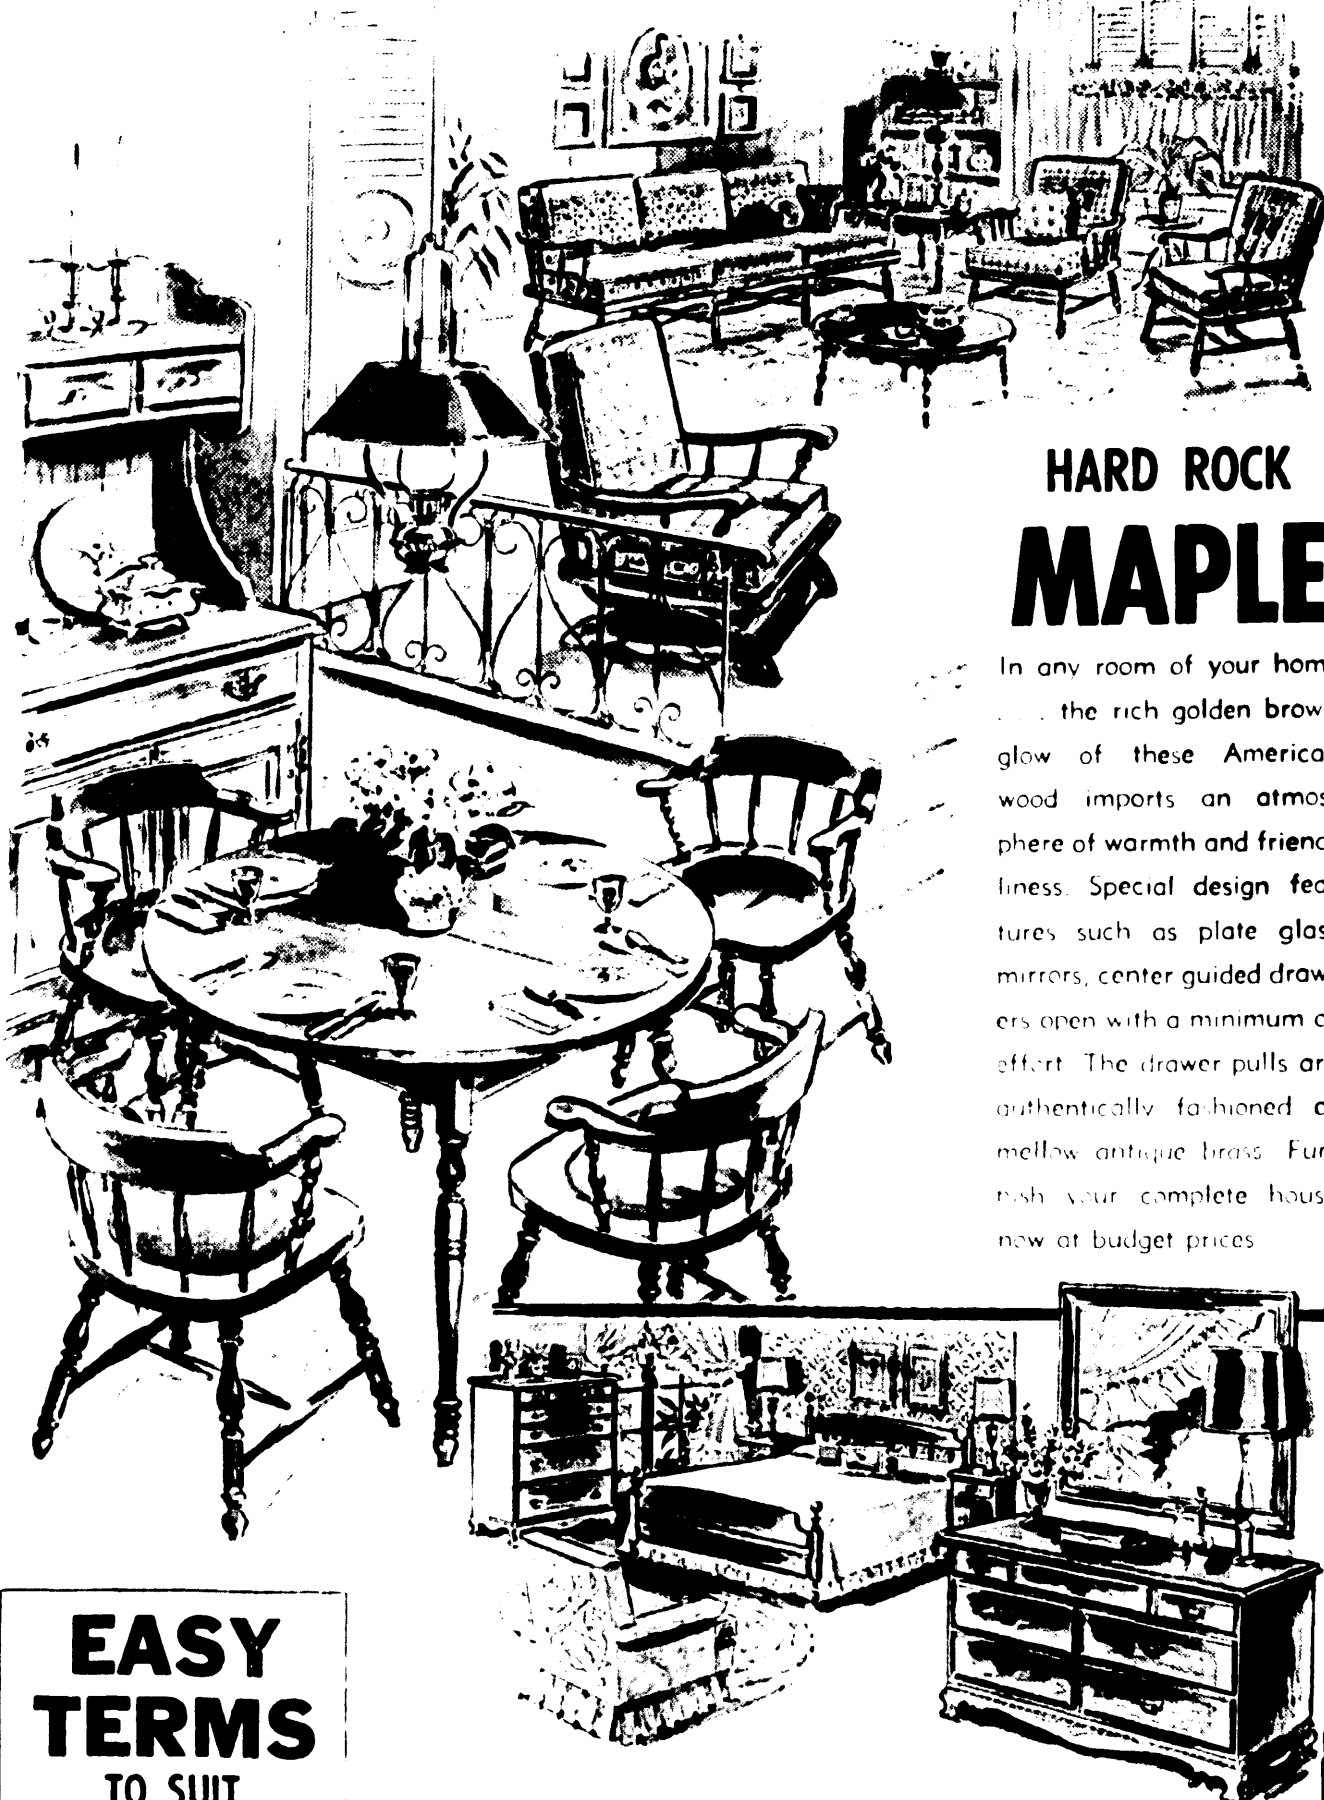

The five articles were vague and wordy and offered little concrete data.

Negro Jailed After Fight

A 19-year-old Negro, Hardy Lee Dobbins, was apprehended by the Ouachita Parish Sheriff's Department Friday night and charged with aggravated battery with a knife upon a Negro woman, Etoria Lee.

Department officials received a call around 9 p.m. Friday to investigate a fight at Dobbins home, 1212 Joe Bill Street. Dobbins is now in the Parish jail.

Secretary Group Volunteers Aid For Fund Drive

The Ouachita chapter of the National Secretaries Association made plans at their last regular meeting, Thursday, November 16, to do volunteer secretarial work for the New March of Dimes project with Mrs. Ninal Evans, Civic Chairman, in charge.

Also at the meeting, Miss Patsy Gordy, membership chairman, announced the Christmas Party will be held at the home of Mrs. Gerry Travis, 133 Glenwood Street in Monroe, on December 7.

Mrs. Helen Bird, chairman of the Home Trust Fund, announced that instead of Christmas presents the members should bring their donations for the Home Trust Fund.

Communist Party Defies Federal Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Communist party of the United States has formally notified the Justice Department of its refusal to register under the Internal Security Act of 1950.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy disclosed Saturday the notice was received by registered letter. The letter, dated Nov. 10 and bearing the party seal but no individual signature, said the refusal was based on a claim of each party officer's constitutional privilege "not to be a witness against himself." The letter was received Friday.

Kennedy said the department replied in a telegram to the party Monday deadline, its officers that "each and every claim of privilege in your letter of Nov. 30 is hereby rejected."

"If the party fails to register by midnight, Monday, Nov. 20, the officers of the Communist party are required by law to register within 10 days," Kennedy told newsmen.

"That 10-day period will expire at midnight, Nov. 30. The Supreme Court has ruled that the Communist party under the law must register with the Department of Justice," Kennedy said.

We will enforce the law.

The registration provisions of the act, upheld by the Supreme Court last June after 10 years of litigation, carry penalties of up to $10,000 for each day of violation. Individual officers and members also are subject to five years in prison for each day of violation.

Party leaders have argued that compliance with the Internal Security Act would leave them open to prosecution under the Smith Act of 1940, which bans teaching or advocating violent overthrow of the government.

If the party carries out its refusal to register by the midnight, Monday deadline, its officers that "each and every claim of privilege in your letter of Nov. 30 is hereby rejected."

Police Probe Burglary Try

Monroe police received a report of an attempted burglary which occurred sometime Friday night.

David Caston, of 4500 Harrison St., told officers that someone attempted to burglarize his place of business located at 504 North 12th St. Friday night.

Evidence showed that someone cut the screen and broke two panes on a window located on the south side at rear of the small grocery store. However, entrance was not gained and nothing was taken.

PROTEST NUCLEAR TESTS

Students Parade At White House

WASHINGTON (AP)—The side-walk in front of the White House blossomed Saturday with placards carried by fasting college students protesting resumption of nuclear testing. And more students were on the way.

A group from Bluffton College, Ohio, carrying such signs as, "Let us call a truce to terror"—a phrase from a speech by President Kennedy to the United Nations—joined at noon a similar group from Grinnell College, Iowa.

And another band of 34 college students planned to leave New York City Saturday to begin protesting in front of the White House Sunday. Still another group from Carleton College, Northfield, Minn., is due Monday.

A dissenting group, calling itself the "Metropolitan Washington Young Americans for Freedom," joined the college students circling along Pennsylvania Avenue with its own batch of signs, such as: "Fallout or sell-out—choose," "Butterfat will make us fat, guns will make us strong," and, "I like Niles."

Miss Judith McGavack, speaking for the opposition group, said, "We believe we should maintain our military superiority. We must continue our testing even if it means atmospheric testing."

Off to one side on the sun-drenched sidewalk, sprinkled with blue-coated policemen keeping spectators on the move, was still another group which called itself the "Peace Action Center."

The latter group, carrying such signs as, "A vigil for peace and disarmament," called in a pamphlet for a disarmed world community under the reign of law.

The New York students, 77 from Cornell University and 17 from Syracuse University, said they would meet another band from Yale University and intend to march with their placards from the Pentagon to the White House.

The New York students said they will present at the White

State Welfare Board Approves January Funds

BATON ROUGE (AP) — The State Welfare Board Saturday approved $15,094,143 in spending for January, 1962.

Federal funds will account for $10,223,000 of the total, and state funds for $5,126,449.

The welfare department reported the total spending for welfare services and administration in October came to $14,743,531, bringing the total for the current fiscal year to $87,808,067.

O. C. Sills, director of the welfare services, told the board smaller hospitals are carrying more of the total case load under the new medical assistance to the aged program.

He said the average cost per day in non-profit hospitals was $25.44. In profit hospitals, the average cost per day was $33.28.

Smaller hospitals, he said, offer less services and the larger hospitals get the more expensive cases as a result, Sills said.

Physicians charged an average of $8.66 per person while attending aged persons entitled to medical assistance. The number of physicians services rose from 7,965 in August, and 6,384 in September to 12,810 in October.

SNOW AND RAIN are expected Sunday in the southern Great Lakes, Ohio Valley and parts of the middle Mississippi Valley. Scattered rain is due in parts of the middle and south Atlantic states, while scattered snow is expected over the central Plateau and parts of the northern Plains. It will be generally fair elsewhere. (AP Wire-photo Map)

SAILS OVER FENCE

Photograph Shows First Lady's Spill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House still wasn't talking Saturday about a tumble Mrs. John F. Kennedy took while fox hunting Friday, but a photograph beyond the rail fence when "Bit" Lady sailing over a fence as if jump.

The horse stopped short but Mrs. Kennedy didn't and Hawkins' camera caught her sailing over the fence. The picture shows her with her booted feet in the air, a shaken up, she soon remounted and continued riding to the hounds until late afternoon.

She returned then to the Kennedy's rented estate, Glen Ora, near Middleburg, Va. Her press secretary refused even to confirm there had been an accident. Friends with her on the hunt acknowledged the spill but said it was a minor one. So did President Kennedy's press secretary, Pierre Salinger, in Phoenix, Ariz.

Marshall Hawkins, a professional photographer of Warrenton, Va., happened to be standing just beyond the rail fence when "Bit" Lady sailing over a fence as if jump.

The First Lady—hat still firmly in place—is clear of the horse and entirely over the fence, with her hands stretched out in front of her. The picture indicates she did not strike the fence but cleared it cleanly and broke her fall with her hands.

Hawkins' three pictures were the subject of spirited bidding among news media. A picture magazine, Life, obtained them with a bid of $3,500.

Hawkins made the sale contingent on Mrs. Kennedy's approval of publication. The magazine headquarters in New York confirmed Saturday the purchase and said it had obtained clearance for publication.

Police Report Shotgun Blast Fired At House

MCCOMB, Miss. (AP) — A shotgun blast was fired at a Negro house Friday night where representatives of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee said two of their members were sleeping.

Desk Sgt. J. L. Glover said the blast was fired about midnight but not reported to police until about 7 a.m. Saturday. He said one blast of a small pellet shot cracked a window and hit the outside of the dwelling.

Girl Saved From Ocean Recovering

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Terry Jo Duperrault, 11, an orphan of the sea, took her first solid food Saturday since her rescue from a tiny raft in the Atlantic Ocean.

Despite her strong rally against ravages of sun and sea, Terry Jo was not allowed to tell what happened when the ketch Bluebelle sank last Sunday night in the Bahamas.

The Green Bay, Wis., blonde spent 3½ days on a raft after the Bluebelle sank, presumably with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Duperrault, her brother, Brian, 14, and Mary Harvey, one of an undetermined number of wives of the boat's skipper, Capt. Julian Harvey.

Harvey survived the sinking, as he had several other brushes with death in the air and afloat, but he committed suicide Friday, leaving a note that said, "I got too tired and nervous. I couldn't stand it any longer."

Harvey's death by razor slashes in a Miami motel raised to six the number of apparent dead in the Bluebelle sinking. When Harvey was spotted in a lifeboat Monday, the body of Terry Jo's sister, Renee, was with him.

An inquest into Renee's death was reported under consideration in the Bahamas. Atty. Gen. L.A.W. Orr told the Miami News,

"That's the only phase of the investigation still open as far as we are concerned, and we haven't quite decided whether to have an inquest or not."

Orr said it would not be necessary to return Renee's body to Nassau for the inquest, if one is held.

"I have the coroner's report," he said. "It gives drowning as the cause of death."

The office of the colonial secretary in Nassau said that thus far no investigation into the tragedy was being undertaken. "As far as we are concerned," a spokesman said, "the Bluebelle is finished."

Terry Jo's physician, Dr. Frank Verdon, said Saturday that the child "is a much improved little girl."

Mrs. Patrick Dies Saturday; Funeral Pending

Mrs. Louise Patrick, 60, Monroe resident, died unexpectedly in a Monroe hospital Saturday night after an illness of about seven hours.

Arrangements were incomplete last night, but will be under the direction of Kilpatrick Funeral Home of West Monroe.

Survivors include her husband, R. A. Patrick, Monroe; one daughter, Mrs. Ernestine Dobbins, Washington, D.C.; and her mother, Mrs. Ella Prestridge, Monroe.

THE KERS GAVE AWAY THEIR BUSINESS AND BUILT . . .

A Dreamboat For Retirement

A dreamboat floating lazily along to perpetual peace and happiness lies somewhere within the imagination of nearly every healthy mortal. It is the buffer—the shock absorber—holding back the ever-swelling tides of grim reality and disappointment along the many pathways of life.

To actually board that dreamboat takes raw courage, for it means flouting convention and conformity to play, rest and to think. Mr. and Mrs. Edmund C. Ker, late of Alexandria, La., had such courage. Today, 70-year old Mr. Ker and his gracious English wife live aboard their beautiful houseboat, "Doreck", far from the cities' mad race.

They gave up a $30,000 per year income from their gravel mining operation, presenting the business absolutely free to their faithful foreman. It wasn't a hasty decision. The Kers had long ago decided to retire in rural Louisiana. Every detail of the Doreck was planned for modern living—electric living.

In younger years, the tall and cultured Scotsman had roamed Louisiana, selling Delco home electric plants and mentally picking spots for retirement.

The plight of rural folks worried him. Less than 2% had electricity and no hopes of getting it—unless able to buy an expensive Delco unit with an operating cost of about 16 cents per kilowatt-hour.

"I was almost glad when rural people organized non-profit, member-owned Electric Co-ops to help themselves get electricity. Although they put me out of a profitable home generation business, the Electric Co-ops got my praise."

"I know of nothing," Mr. Ker continued, "that has done more for Louisiana's economy and main-street business than rural electrification . . . nothing that has been more beneficial to both town and country progress."

The couple's dreamboat is presently plugged into a Co-op power line along a remote lake bank. It has every city convenience, air conditioning, refrigeration, washing machine, television, etc.

The Kers prove that any one can live anywhere their heart desires today in lovely rural Louisiana . . . thanks to the vision of Electric Cooperatives.

Solon Raps Conservative Republicans

WASHINGTON (AP)— Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., predicted Saturday the Republicans will lose if they try to recapture the White House in 1964 with "an ultraconservative candidate."

Aiken, a leader among Capitol Hill Republicans who regard themselves as progressives, said his party must pursue forward-looking policies in Congress and on the stump "if we are to win the presidency."

The senator told an interviewer New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller has strong support in the Northeast and would make a formidable campaigner.

Announcement that Rockefeller and his wife plan a divorce after 31 years of marriage caught Aiken and other Republicans by surprise.

"It is too early to say what effect a divorce will have on Gov. Rockefeller's political future," Aiken said.

But if he wins re-election as governor by a large majority he might make the strongest candidate we could present against President Kennedy in 1964."

That may not necessarily hold true 12 months from now," Aiken added.

And Richard M. Nixon should not be counted out if he wins the California governorship by a heavy majority which would increase pressure on him to run for the presidency, Aiken said.

But Aiken, working at his Capitol office after a post-visit to Vermont, contended his party will have to reverse its course in Congress to win with a Republican who patterns his tie field.

SEC Acting For Public Protection

views along the line of Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., the self-described conservative, could win vitally needed votes in the Northeast.

But I do not see any wave of increase pressure on him to run for the presidency, Aiken said.

To help its candidates in 1962 elections, and in the presidential election in a series of recent actions has significantly broadened its efforts to protect the investing public.

The expansion of SEC activity reflects an increased number of trouble spots in the stock market, which last week set price records. The expansion also reflects a tougher agency attitude toward questionable practices in the securities field.

Here are some examples of the areas into which the commission has moved in recent weeks.

—For the first time, it has disciplined a broker for capitalizing on "inside information" not available to the public. The broker sold 7,000 shares of Curtiss-Wright stock after hearing from a director that the dividend was to be cut sharply.

—The commission is in the process of adopting a series of new rules governing the affairs of investment advisers—those who sell stock market advice or manage investments for a fee. Starting Jan. 1, it will begin policing advertising by advisers to eliminate pie-in-the-sky claims and misleading testimonials.

—On Oct. 31 it accused two large New York firms, Sutro Bros. and Co. and Schweickert & Co., of arranging for the financing of customers' stock purchases in violation of credit restrictions. This is the first major case in this area in recent years.

A tougher commission attitude was first indicated last May when the SEC ordered a special investigation of the American Stock Exchange. This inquiry, the first of its kind in 22 years, was launched after the SEC expelled two exchange members, Jerry and Gerard Re, for alleged market rigging and illegal stock sales.

The SEC later argued strongly for congressional authority to undertake a broader investigation of all stock markets, including the New York Stock Exchange and the over-the-counter market. This inquiry is just beginning and will continue for more than a year.

The two investigations and many other recent moves by the SEC reflect the fact that the greatest bull market in history has been in progress for 13 years without any broad study of the special problems it has raised.

Civil War Ballads Again In Spotlight

WASHINGTON (AP)—The centennial celebration of the Civil War shifted from battles to ballads Saturday with observance of the 100th anniversary of the stirring song "The Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Soldiers were not the only combatants during the war. Songwriters of the North and South waged a fearsome struggle, firing an estimated 10,000 songs at each other.

Julia Ward Howe, who wrote the verses beginning "Mine eyes have seen the glory of the coming of the Lord," in a Washington hotel during a sleepless night on Nov. 21, 1821, was a towering figure in the musical war. But many of the others would have to be classed as unsung heroes.

Stephen Foster, for instance, tried many times but failed dismally to come up with a Northern war song, comparable to his great folk songs of the South. Although best known for Southern themes, the composer was a Pennsylvanian.

The South struck the first chord, coming up with a musical salute to South Carolina for seceding from the Union on Dec. 20, 1850. But the surrender of Ft. Sumter in April 1861, uncovered the Ulysses S. Grant of the Northern songwriters, George Frederick Root of Chicago.

Less than a week after Sumter fell, Root was out with a strident call to arms entitled "The First Gun Is Fired! May God Protect the Right!"

He never let up on "The Traitorous Foe," as his songs usually called the South, from then on, pouring out dozens of songs. Among them were "The Battle Cry of Freedom," and "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp," two of the war's best known.

As might be expected in a war that pitted brother against brother, many of the songs were popular with both North and South, with the substitution of "Blue" for "Gray" or "Dixie" for "Union" in appropriate places. Each side also found its greatest song in the enemy camp.

The tune of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" was a favorite in Georgia and South Carolina camp meetings before the war under the name "Say Brothers."

"All You Meet Us on Canaan's Wapiti Shore?"

Federal troops were marching to it singing "John Brown's Body"

Lies A-Mouldering in the Grave" when Mrs. Howe heard it and was inspired to write her lyrics. "Dixie," the Confederacy's unofficial national anthem, was written by an ardent Union supporter for a minstrel show in New York City in 1859. The song was a favorite of Abraham Lincoln's and was used in the 1860 presidential campaign before the South took it over.

As the long, bloody war progressed, the militant tone of the songs changed drastically. Some, such as "When This Cruel War Is Over," and "Weeping, Sad and Lonely," produced such homesickness and melancholy among the troops they were banned by many commanding officers.

The one song produced late in the war that was sung with joy by both sides was "When Johnny Comes Marching Home Again. Hurrah! Hurrah!"

Sheriff Probes Police Burglar At Baton Rouge

BATON ROUGE (AP) — The sheriff's office Saturday built a web of evidence that city police Sgt. J. H. Smith, 35, once considered tops in work with juvenile delinquents, doubled as a burglar. Smith once was picked to head the city police department's juvenile division. He had attended the delinquency control institute in California, the nation's top school for specialty.

Then came a tragic automobile accident, in which Smith received head injuries and lay on the brink of death for about three months. Some officers believe it had an impact upon Smith's life.

Smith Thursday night was shot in the abdomen by a night watchman at Continental Auto Sales and Service, Inc., here. Watchman Curtis Bruce said the officer, off duty, broke into the place and was wounded in a scuffle as he tried to place the man under arrest.

Smith fled, but sought medical aid at a hospital, where he was arrested, and officers said he admitted the crime.

Sheriff Bryan Clemmons said technicians discovered Smith's fingerprints in a cigarette machine that had been burglarized Oct. 24 at the same auto agency.

U.S. Layman To Report On Tour Abroad

NEW YORK (AP)—Disension among religious groups in the United States has given many foreign churchmen a distorted picture of our country, a prominent American layman reports after a two-month tour abroad.

Dr. Lewis Webster Jones, president of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, will report his findings in detail Monday at the NCCJ annual meeting in Washington.

"Misunderstanding of the U.S. conception of the separation of church and state was widespread among European church leaders," Dr. Jones said. His NCCJ mission was largely to help correct these impressions, for two main reasons.

Statements and actions of religious leaders in Europe, he said, sometimes unwittingly contribute to religious conflicts here in America.

These mostly concern church-state relations and, while easily understood by a European audience, can be just as easily misunderstood by Americans whose view of proper church-state relations is different. Thus European church leaders often are unaware that a statement could have unfortunate results among followers of their faith in America, he said.

His second reason for explaining the American attitude toward church and state was simply "to seek better understanding between nations."

He said some of the churchmen in Europe are "far ahead of us in interfaith dialogue—particularly those in West Germany and the Low Countries."

Dr. Jones said mutual understanding—and its resulting good—can come about only if communication lines are opened internationally in the same way his organization strives to promote interfaith discussions in America.

Some of the churchmen with whom Dr. Jones conversed included Augustin Cardinal Bea, Vatican secretary for Christian unity. The Rev. William Simmonds of the British Council of Churches and Jews, Israel's Chief Rabbi Yitzhak Nissim, Dr. Vissert "Hofdi" of the World Council of Churches, Orthodox Bishop Emilianos Timiadis of Geneva, and others.

Dr. Jones, 61, formerly was president of Rutgers University, of Bennington College in Vermont, and of the University of Arkansas.

The Almanac

By United Press International

Today is Sunday, Nov. 19, the 323rd day of the year with 42 more to follow in 1961.

The moon is approaching its full phase.

The morning star is Venus. The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history: In 1863, President Abraham Lincoln spoke at a ceremony dedicating the battlefield of Gettysburg, Pa., as a national cemetery.

In 1874, William Marc Tweed, political "boss" of Tammany Hall in New York City, was convicted of defrauding the city of about $1-million and was sentenced to 12 years' imprisonment.

In 1919, the Treaty of Versailles, drawn up by the Paris conference at the end of World War I, was rejected by the U.S. Senate.

In 1959, Gov. Nelson Rockefeller urged economic union for the Americas.

A thought for the day: English statesman William Pitt said, "Unlimited power is apt to corrupt the minds of those who possess it."

JANE LEE Ware, West Monroe High School 4-H club member, will leave Monday to attend the International Livestock Exposition in Chicago, Nov. 20-26, where she will exhibit her 4-H lamb. Jane merited the trip recently at the Louisiana State Fair in Shreveport when one of her lambs was chosen as a member of the group to represent the state at the International Show. Leaving here Monday night, she will travel to Jackson, Miss., where she will join 25, other club members and six adult leaders from Louisiana for the trip. Jane and her brother, Jimmy, exhibited lambs in the show last year.

U.S. Group Opposed To McCormack

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A predominantly Protestant group Saturday expressed "anxiety" over the expected election of Rep. John W. McCormack—a Catholic—as day that "while President Kennedy and the Supreme Court have sought to uphold and maintain the United States' separation of church and state, Mr. McCormack has opposed them. Of fact of McCormack's religion was how he would use the greatly expanded powers of his prospective office."

What was involved, it said in a statement, is that the Massachusetts Democrat has "been for" General Democratic Party sen-many years the foremost champion on Capitol Hill of the Catholic bishops' position on church and state.

"No one questions the right of Mr. McCormack or any other congressman to be a sincere devotee of his faith," the group said "but when he seeks political favors for his own church he must bear the responsibility."

The organization, which claims a national total of 100,000 supporters, has vigorously opposed federal aid to parochial schools.

It said in its statement Saturday that "while President Kennedy and the Supreme Court have sought to uphold and maintain the United States' separation of church and state, Mr. McCormack has opposed them. Of fact of McCormack's religion was how he would use the greatly expanded powers of his prospective office."

Vacation's over for specials and its back to pounding a typewriter... fun while it lasted, but it was pleasing to note that there was some concern voiced about when the column would be back.

Well, actually you see it wasn't a sure thing as to the popularity of the piece in the first place. Like it's probably the only column in the newspaper business that's never received a letter.

Not begging you understand, but... then again we wouldn't want letters like some columnists receive... after all, it's a young 'un and we'll wait.

Contract On Elementary School Let

RUSTON (Special) — Contract for the third of four elementary schools for Ruston school district was awarded to Don Baxter of Sicily Island at a special meeting of the Lincoln parish School Board.

The base contract for the new school was $346,158, superintendent Morelle Emmons revealed. An additional $3,000 worth of shelving was contracted for, bringing the total to $351,158.

This is 3,000 more than the base bid on the new Hillcrest School, Emmons said, "but the rough terrain in the Cypress Springs area accounts for the additional cost."

The new Cypress Springs School will be an exact replica of the Hillcrest school, without the additional special education classrooms added to the first school.

All the bids were very close, with the highest base bid, by R. J. Jones and Sons of Alexandria, only $356,395, Emmons disclosed. Other bidders and their prices included Jesse F. Heard & Sons, Monroe, $348,900; E. O. Conley, Ruston, $350,276; Rannie Terrill Construction, Farmerville, $352,000; Brown and Blazier, West Monroe, $355,000.

In other action, Ragan Madden, attorney for the board, said that all details had been worked out for purchase of land for the Negro elementary school which will be just a little northwest of the Lincoln High School building in a vacant plot in Strain Subdivision.

The board also purchased three dishwashers for new schools from Commercial Kitchens of Houston for $3,820.

The special committee appointed to investigate the sale of Junior High School property disclosed that appraisals had been received on the land and building ranging from $100,000 to $125,000. He indicated the board would take some action on the property at their December meeting.

JFK Will Urge Flexible Policy

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy plans to urge German Democrats and the Free Chancellor Konrad Adenauer this week to approve a flexible West-ern policy for negotiations with the Soviet Union on a Berlin settlement.

The compact called for strengthening of Western ties between West Germany and West Berlin. U.S. officials who reported this U.S. policy line Saturday were vague on precise details. Evidently it aims at readiness to make limited concessions to the Soviets if they agree to scale down their demands.

Adenauer will fly here Sunday from Bonn, where he has been rearranging the political base of his government after losing some strength in the Sept. 17 election. Kennedy and his advisers are highly uncertain about Adenauer's mood toward the talks, which open Monday and may run through Wednesday.

Most indications have been that the chancellor, 85, who now wields power with an opposition party in a coalition government, is in a no-compromise attitude.

Administration leaders are not at all certain these indicators are true ones. They think Adenauer is prepared to move eventually toward negotiations with the Soviet on German issues, including Berlin.

Gerhard Schroeder, foreign minister in Adenauer's new coalition government, ruled out any effort from the West German side to lay down preconditions or give the Russians ultimatums in advance of talks. His comments seemed softer than those of Adenauer earlier last week.

Schroeder talked to reporters in Berlin after conferring with Gen. Lucius D. Clay, Kennedy's personal representative in the beleaguered city. Clay then headed for Washington to take part in this week's conferences.

Schroeder said the Communist wall on the East Berlin border "must go." But he said his government must not insist that it be pulled down prior to the opening of East-West talks.

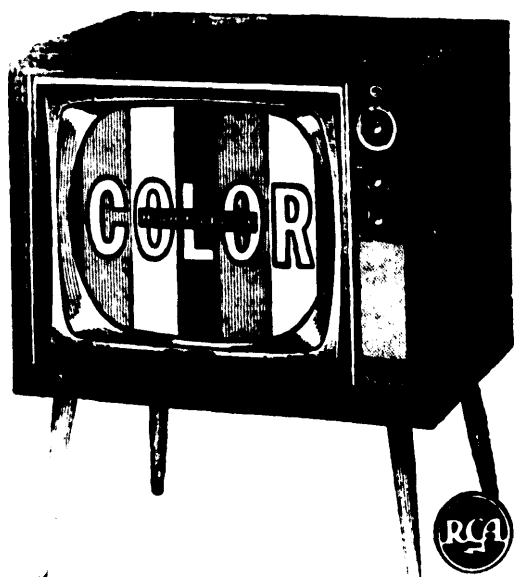

We must be careful not to set up preconditions that are actually ultimatums," he said.

Adenauer had said Thursday the wall would have to come down. One interpretation was that Adenauer meant this as a condition for talks with the Communists. But it appeared later that he meant Soviet agreement to destroy the barrier must be part of any eventual settlement.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk indicated at a news conference Friday that the President is prepared to agree with Adenauer that the West should demand removal of the wall. But U.S. officials do not think the Soviets would agree to its removal in the foreseeable future, and they said Kennedy is not prepared to demand its destruction now as an essential part of a Berlin settlement.

A compact between Adenauer's and the post office announced.

GOV. ROCKEFELLER

Divorce May Have Political Effects

NEW YORK (AP)—The announcement by Gov. and Mrs. Nelson A. Rockefeller that they will be divorced stunned political circles Saturday and raised the question of how the 1964 presidential picture will be affected.

A second question, being mullied in social circles, was what lay behind the rift in the 31-year marriage.

Both Rockefeller and his wife were in seclusion and unavailable for comment on any aspects of the situation.

The main political fact facing the governor widely mentioned as a possibility for the Republican presidential nomination in 1964, is that no divorced man has ever been elected to the White House.

Two divorced men have won nominations, both Democratic. They were Adlai E. Stevenson in 1952 and 1956 and James M. Cox in 1920.

An aide to Rockefeller said the governor "absolutely" will run for re-election next year, as he previously had announced.

Political sources believed the outcome of the state race might give some indication of what effect the divorce will have on his political fortunes and have a bearing on his decision concerning 1964.

EUMECES SKILTONIANUS?

A Eumeces skiltonianus is a type of lizard commonly known as the blue-tailed skink.

The study of all branches of zoology is important to a fuller knowledge of biology which, in turn, is essential to a better understanding of the human body. Unfortunately, many potential zoologists may never pursue this science because they may never go to college. Already many of our colleges are overcrowded and in 10 years applications will double. We will need more and better college laboratories and thousands more of the highest quality professors.

Veteran Star Soft Pedals Knighthood

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Sir Cedric Hardwicke is soft peddling the knighthood business these days.

To him the flower of knighthood was on a movie marquee or TV casting list.

For years, the actor has been unhappy with the Hollywood system which billed him as "Sir Cedric Hardwicke" when he appeared in a movie.

"I don't think Laurence has been able to beat that," he said referring to fellow knight Sir Laurence Olivier. "The producers consider it part of your name."

"It would be pompous for me to use Sir Cedric in the credits. It's the custom in England not to use it. I don't want to be regarded by my English friends as a showoff who used his title for personal aggrandizement."

Hardwicke got a chance to say something about his billing when initiative for the separation and he was cast in TV's "Mrs. G." impending divorce came from Mrs. Rockefeller and that the "sir" in a very democratic governor had "hoped until the last moment" to dissuade her.

Sir Cedric gave several reasons why other knights roaming across England's fields of honor look askance at use of their rank for crass commercialism.

It would almost be like painting "all knights drink ye old Pilsch's ale" on the side of their armor.

Explaining his title, Cedric said, "It's honoring the profession not your personality. What they do is pick out certain professions and hope you'll be a worthy representative of it. It's an honor for services rendered to your profession."

Being a knight is a pretty soft job, especially if you live in America.

"If you live in England you have to open a lot of banners and fashion shows," said Hardwicke who seems not to relish such activity.

Besides Hardwicke and Olivier if other acting knights include Sir John Gielgud, Sir Michael Redgrave and Sir Ralph Richardson.

Hardwicke said his title can't be taken away "except for treason" but that doesn't mean he can roughed over the rest of England. He recalled an occasion when he and Sir Ralph Richardson were stopped by a policeman in England for speeding.

When Richardson identified himself and Hardwicke as knights, the officer said, "I don't care if you're the whole round table, you're not going to get away with that."

Hardwicke was asked if all the acting stars ever get together to hatch plots, or whatever knights do.

"There'd be one heck of a row if we did," he answered.

Rayburn's Successor

President Kennedy, who flew some more than a thousand miles to visit House Speaker Sam Rayburn a few weeks before the death of the veteran legislator, has more reason than his personal feelings for regretting the loss of Rayburn in the house of representatives. Representative John W. McCormack, slated to succeed Rayburn as speaker, is not expected to go along with every Kennedy whim and wish in the way Speaker Rayburn did.

McCormack, 69-year-old veteran Massachusetts Democrat, has feuded sporadically with Kennedy for more than a dozen years. The president and McCormack are from the same state and often have run counter to each other politically. Furthermore, McCormack is a hard-headed politician not given to any kind of me-tooism and owes Kennedy no favors. When Vice-President Lyndon B. Johnson and Rayburn threw in their lot with Kennedy in the 1960 Democratic presidential convention, Rayburn felt, after the election of the Democratic candidates, that he was honor-bound to support Kennedy. McCormack owes no such debt.

For a record-shattering 21 years, McCormack has served behind Rayburn as the No. 2 Democrat in the house. Although he is not the most popular man in the house, just as he is not the most easily managed, many Democrats feel McCormack has earned the right to the top post.

Kennedy's program undoubtedly will suffer from the change in leadership in the house. The house, now far more conservative than the senate, because its members are elected more often and are, therefore, more responsive to the changing sentiment of the electorate, provides the limiting barrier to the administration's legislation.

No new speaker would have the powerful influence the master politician Rayburn has wielded on behalf of the administration.

Opinion differs on whether Kennedy will get along as well with his new lieutenant as he did with Rayburn. McCormack's friends insist his past differences with Kennedy have been exaggerated.

There will, however, be a tremendous difference. McCormack is likely to be far more impressed by the opinions of other members of congress than was Rayburn. Rayburn went all out for the Kennedy program even when he had difficulty whipping the house members into line. There is not much likelihood that McCormack will try to get the house lined up for any Kennedy legislation unless he personally favors such legislation. Therein is the big difference.

How We Help Reds

American citizens who have kept up with the Kennedy administration's kind - deeds - to - communists campaign will find it difficult to believe that our contributions to Red causes in October touched a new high. President Kennedy, although he seems to be making some effort, has not been able to shake off the influence of his left-winger friends.

One double-barreled contribution to a communist country, in the form of military equipment and training, is enough to jar our citizens even more than they were shaken by Khrushchev's 50-megaton nuclear bomb.

Communist Yugoslav airmen received jet training at a Texas air base so they could fly the jet planes the Kennedy administration plans to give them. Incidentally, it was hinted that some of these jets might be sold at a good price by Yugoslavia to our mortal Cuban enemy, Fidel Castro, so that he would be able to retaliate more strongly if we should try to apply sanctions to him because of his insulting statements about the United States.

Earlier, United Nations troops, financed almost entirely by United States contributions, worked over the anti-communist government of Katanga. The administration also failed to lift a finger to help the anti-communist Dominican government, with a resulting increase in pro-communist strife in that country.

There can not be the slightest doubt that the United States holds the all-time world record for assisting those it has declared to be its enemies and for refusing to help those who, because of their opposition to communism, have placed themselves on the side which we pretend to espouse.

After Dr. Cheddi Jagan, the Red-leaning prime minister of British Guiana was received by President Kennedy and state department officials in Washington, the New York Times, which gives every appearance of being the strongest organ of the communists in the United States, reported that Dr. Jagan went back to his pro-communist country with assurances of financial aid from the United States.

On the contrary, the anti-communist government of South Africa received a nasty slap in the face from Adlai Stevenson's understudy at the United Nations. The anti-communist Portuguese received not a whit more understanding and encouragement from the state department, which undoubtedly contains many Reds sympathizers. What makes it worse is that Stevenson seems either to lead or support these extreme leftist one-worlders.

Foreign policy developments were all to the advantage of the Red cause. Still on the dark side, Outer Mongolia, which was sponsored by Russia, was admitted to the United Nations and the United States failed to use its power of veto to prevent this.

Senator John Tower of Texas exposed the administration's plans to give nuclear reactors to communist Czechoslovakia and various nuclear materials to Yugoslavia.

As if that were not enough, G. Mennen "Soapy" Williams, under-secretary of state, held cozy conferences in Tunisia with the pro-communist Algerian rebel government.

The situation is so tragic and incredible that good Americans are virtually stunned. The New Frontier seems determined to weaken the United States and its allies and to lavish aid and sympathy on those nations that are either in the communist camp or follow the Red line.

Those citizens who speak out in anger at communism are said to be endangering national security. In the face of administration appeasement of communist forces, from Cuba to southeast Asia, Vice-President Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas had the audacity to speak at the University of Florida and condemn citizens who criticize the strange leadership we have in the federal government.

Americans don't seem to be in the mood to be taken in by "liberal" rhetoric. Conservatism is on the march, for the American people realize their country is in deep trouble and that only vigorous anti-communism will save the republic.

Leftwingers speak scornfully of "patriotic pipers" but the happy truth is that patriots are organizing from coast to coast. This is frightening the homegrown leftists—the foreign aiders, the defeatists, the "We are guilty too" types—the Fulbrights.

Number One Text For Life

'STUDY TO SHOW THYSELF APPROVED UNTO GOD, A WORKMAN THAT NEEDETH NOT TO BE ASHAMED, RIGHTLY DIVIDING THE WORD OF TRUTH' 2 TIM. 2:16

of all the Americans who are already dead. Who gave their life's blood so that their children and our children might be free. Did they die in vain?

I wonder if the people who take this line of thought think that an A-bomb will kill them any deadlier than an automobile or cancer or old age. Rather that we die for a noble cause than to live for a thousand years in cowardly subjection.

Another cowardly excuse is that the next war will be fought on American soil. What about the war for American independence? The Civil War? The War of 1812? Where were they fought? Suppose our forefathers had been afraid to come to America for fear the Indians would lift a few scalps?

If these god-less atheists are willing to fight and die for atheism, shouldn't we, who call ourselves Christians, be more than willing to fight and die for God and country. God grant that it be so.

Sincerely,

Raps General Walker

Monroe, La.

To The Editor:

Much has been written concerning General Walker's method of troop indoctrination, alleged muzzling, and resignation from the Army; and as usual the Monroe Morning World has followed the pattern of half-truths and slanted editorials in order to confuse the public and belittle the present administration. Let's examine the other side of the coin.

To begin with, it was reported that General Walker invoked Article 31 of the Uniform Code of Military Justice when questioned about acting contrary to an Army Regulation (A.R. 355-5). Article 31 is the military's equivalent to the Fifth Amendment that can be used in civilian proceedings. It was also reported that the General did not hesitate to use Article 31 when asked, "As Commander of the 24th Division in Germany had he acted contrary to A.R. 355-5 by advising his men on political matters through the division's weekly newspaper?"

Now it seems that a known member of the John Birch Society would not resort to the same technique their group so violently opposes. Yet, when put to the same test the General readily grasped for this "self-imposed muzzle."

A Department of Defense report also concluded: "That Major General Walker, acting in an official capacity, attempted to influence the members of the division and their dependents, in their selection of Senatorial and Congressional candidates by recommending the use of voting materials not obtained through military sources."

The "Houston Chronicle" summed it up Sunday, November 5, 1961, by stating: "Our soldiers - drawn from every state, every walk of life, every persuasion—represent a general who instructs them where to call for information furnished by one side on how to vote for Congressmen. This was General Walker's failing. It had nothing to do with whether he was a fine military leader or not; it had nothing to do with whether he was for or against Communism. The fact is that in America, a man's vote is his own un-instructed and unpressured business."

General Walker's decision to retire from the army is a welcomed one, for now if he chooses to be a bona-fide political aspirant the public will have an opportunity to approve or disapprove his ultra-conservative views with the ballot. I think he will find the going a little rougher without the advantage of a "captive audience."

Incidentally, I must have overlooked your praises for the general when he was in command of bayonets, and those were American citizens on the receiving end of the rifle butts and bayonets, and those were American citizens he was instructing on how they should vote. History has witnessed other generals who used similar stepping stones to establish a military dictatorship. To applaud or praise one as being a great patriot solely because he is against Communism is not enough—so was Hitler.

Approves U.N. Editorial

Ruston, La.

To The Editor:

At our regular meeting last night the members of the Parnell-Burt Post 3615, Veterans of Foreign Wars directed me by unanimous vote to congratulate you for your excellent and timely editorial entitled "Tears For U.N. Day."

In view of its past performance and present composition, it is difficult to see how any informed person can view the U.N. in any light other than as a menace to United States sovereignty, and the right of our people to govern themselves.

The members of this Post are grateful to your paper for the light it is waging for the American people.

Sincerely,
WILLIAM F. NOLAN, Commander
Veterans of Foreign Wars

Still Fooling People

Mer Rouge, La.

To The Editor:

Abraham Lincoln said: "You can fool all the people part of the time and part of the people all the time but you can't fool all the people all the time." It seems that flared-mouthed Khrushchev has refuted Abe's bit of reasoning. At least he has done so up to date on the latter part. Not only has Khrushchev fooled us but he has scared us to boot.

Isn't Russia and big-mouthed Khrushchev that is a menace to the United States. Our danger lies entirely within the bounds of our own country. I am, of course, holding the United Nations in mind in making that assertion. It is often

Criticizes Editorial

Asheville, N.C.

To The Editor:

In one of your recent editorials, you saw fit to blunder into agreement with Ted Dealey, publisher of the Dallas Morning News. However, that, in itself, is unimportant. The important fact, which you declined to publish, was President Kennedy's reply to the idiot's babbling insanity. Therefore, I am enclosing, for your information, an editorial from a local paper, which details both sides of the episode. You said, "The president's reply, if any, seemed to have been lost in the shuffle." Perhaps so, for those like you, who are afraid to print the truth. Incidentally, it is true that Mr. Kennedy attended the Washington International Horse Show that same evening. It isn't difficult to understand his reasoning there. Considering that you, Dealey, and the Ewings of Shreveport were on the loose, he probably wanted to check the stables to see if any other asses had escaped.

Favors DWI Arrests

Monroe, La.

To The Editor:

We, the undersigned, wish to express our opinion concerning DWI arrests. We feel that for Judge Harper to take any course of action other than that which he has taken, would do a great disservice to the children and citizens, including the businessmen, of Monroe. We feel that Judge Harper is to be highly commended on his decision and stand concerning DWI arrests.

By the same token, we feel that the newspaper should go on record as approving and supporting such action by our law enforcement agencies and courts. The news media plays a most important role in forming local opinion and courses of action.

Therefore, we urge you after serious consideration for the safety of the citizens of Monroe and the general betterment of the city, to support the law enforcement groups and courts in their recent stand for more rigid DWI tests.

Answers Dr. Oliphint

CB

To The Editor:

My answer to Dr. Ben Oliphint on UNICEF is rather lengthy as I tried to deal with facts and not generalities. I could not ask the World to print it in this section and decided to run it in the form of an ad elsewhere in this paper.

Since the birth of the United Nations we have seen 170,000,000 human beings fall slave to Communism. If Americans would only investigate they would find that this same United Nations is being used by our enemies to destroy our National Sovereignty.

When the murdering Reds take a country unbelievably horrible things happen. We have three little girls at our house. I don't want to see them selected by Communist thugs to be used for breeding purposes. I don't want to see my friends sons taught to spy on their fathers and report them to the State for believing in God. DON'T TELL ME THIS CAN'T HAPPEN! Look at the facts of history. Recent history. IT CAN'T HAPPEN IF AMERICANS WILL FIGHT BACK. BUT! To watch "Operation Abolition" is not enough! Of what benefit to mankind is the skill of a surgeon if he refuses to operate? The skill of a lawyer if he refuses to practice? To become informed is only half of the fight. Americans must stand up and be counted by their actions.

The little sticker I have on the back of my car explains why I allow my name to be seen in "public places." It reads: "Better Dead Than Red." The very existence of the free soul of mankind is at stake.

Tears For U.N. Day

Monroe, La.

To The Editor:

Your editorial in Morning World of Nov. 8, "Tears For U.N. Day," in which I fully agree with you, just about covered the foolish ideas of the Liberal element in the U.N. and also in our own Government. I also agree with Senator Strom Thurmond that it is time for a thorough investigation into the affairs of our Government. In this editorial you stated that American citizens are tired of the sight of diplomats from Africa who live in the United States like millionaires on the funds supplied by American aid, for example the ambassador of the Ivory Coast bought a $90,000 estate for his U.N. Embassy in New York. Dictator Nkrumah of Ghana hired 40 suites at the Waldorf Hotel during his visit to this country and that they travel around the world in chartered jet transports. If this is not enough to convince the American people that we are not only supplying the money for the African nations, there are also the Russians and her satellite nations. "We read 'Russian Space Lead is Aided By U.S. Fiscal Extravagance.'" Congressman Bob Dole, Kansas, has this to say, "Though there are those who have serious doubts about Russian successes in orbiting the earth it must be obvious that taxpayers of this country have contributed heavily to any space supremacy Russians may now enjoy. The Soviet Union follows the policy of heads I win, tails you lose. There are a few examples, in 1960 it cost a total of $347 million to operate the United Nations. Of the amount U.S. paid $146.2 million and Russia only $18.2 million. A further breakdown of the total expense reveals these startling facts: U.S. News and World Reports.

Total	$71,050,211
Development aid	$48,500,000
Congo Force (6 mos.)	$38,584,912
Palestine Force	$38,584,912
Refugee programs	$25,000,000
Childrens Fund	$20,989,760
World Health	$9,225,000
Food & Agriculture
U.S. Pays	$29,452,855
Russia Pays	$2,350,000
Nothing	$19,600,000
Nothing	$25,310,000
Nothing	$12,000,000
Nothing	$9,155,000
Nothing	$2,467,370
Nothing	$2,999,210

It is plain to see that Russia only supports the U.N. in projects that Russia can use to their advantage while we pay by far most of the expenses. Castro, I understand, still receives U.S. taxpayers dollars through this World Health U.N. organization. In News Star, Fulton Lewis on Nov. 9th, reports an American missionary stationed in Elizabethville, Katanga, has accused the United Nations of destroying a prosperous young country and U.N. troops of using Gestapo-like tactics. The missionary, Kenneth Jones, further states they broke away from the Congo because they didn't want to see Katanga wealth fall into the hands of the Communist-leaning Gizenga crowd. According to this, the communists, although they are not paying for the Congo operation, the U.N. is supporting them. I think it is about time for the American people to realize we are being taken for a costly ride by the U.N.

Congressman James B. Utt announced he will introduce a bill at the next session of Congress asking that immediate steps be taken for the withdrawal of the United States from the United Nations. He will present a 10-count indictment against the United Nations, asking for immediate withdrawal of the U.S. I think it in the best interest of the American people to write Congressman Utt and let him know that we support him.

Appreciates Article

Monroe, La.

To The Editor:

It was with deepest appreciation that we read your article on Judge Harper's stand on drunk driving and the fact that you gave it front page coverage.

I wish the businessmen who are against him could have heard our little five-year-old granddaughter as she lay on the floor in our home drawing just one week ago. She was talking to herself as most five year olds will and this is the words she said: "I'm going to draw me a Daddy cause I don't have one." Do you know why she does not have one? HER Daddy and little three-month-old brother were killed by a drunken driver. She herself carries a six-inch scar across the top of her head, her older brother carries a head scar and her mother will always walk with a very distinct limp. Why? Because she has one hip joint made of steel caused by the same drunk driver.

You ask if we are bitter? We would be inhuman not to be to a certain extent but God has so graciously come to our rescue. We only write this to let you know how those who have felt the terrible results of a drunken driver feel.

We pray that the businessmen who so strongly oppose what the police and Judge Harper are doing will never be awakened at an early morning hour to be told that almost half of that child's family has been killed by a drunken driver and the others are left badly mangled and not expected to live. Then have to go through the torment of standing over them for days and even months wondering if they will live, then if they will have their complete thinking capacity and memory and after that wondering if they will ever walk.

With all we have been blessed for there are others who have been hit by drunk drivers who will never think or walk again.

May God in His goodness bless those who take part in the drive against drunken driving.

MRS. WILLIAM R. BLAIR

Criticism Deserved

Delhi, La.

To The Editor:

From day to day as I read your editorials criticizing the Kennedy administration, its blunders, mouthiness, one thing seems strikingly clear.

We, the people of these United States deserve the most criticism for being so apathetic. We've allowed nearly 30 years of creeping socialism and softness toward communism.

The government is no longer the voice of the people. Rather, it is the voice of a few rather loud pressure groups and it would seem, external infiltration. They would rather please Nehru than the American taxpayers. They would rather give 20 million dollars to a certain South American "liberator" (so he won't get it from the Soviets) than to build fallout shelters for the very people we put them in office.

We sat around griping about the Berlin crisis and farm support and yet how many of us bother to even write to our congressmen? How many of us have even bothered to send a telegram of protest over even the issues most vital to our national security?

Why were the communists allowed to build a wall around East Berlin? Why was the hobbling of the Cuban invasion allowed? What about the training of communist jet pilots on American soil? What about the billions of foreign aid poured into communist countries? What about the "selling" of jet fighter planes to these countries?

How many of us protested by sending a telegram?

Rather, we conjure up rather touching slogans, such as "I'd rather be red than dead." Think called the "UN" which is fitting as the organization is UNfair, UNwanted, UNcontrollable and UNconstitutional. It is the hand maiden of the communists and the twin of integration. It is an evil institution that we have allowed to set aside our own government and set up their own as the supreme law of the country. It has caused more trouble than any single factor in our existence since the days of the nasty Reconstruction. It takes cases out of our State Courts and reverses them contrary to common sense. It has raised higher hopes in the breast of an improvident race than any compact since that far off time of a promise of "40 acres and a mule." It is crucifying the South on a cross of integration and it presses down the brow of the north a thorny crown of equality.

It is impoverishing our country to rehabilitate people who will never reach that stage short of heaven. The high brass in Washington bands an ear to the faintest whisper of the integrationist but heads not the rightful protest of a people who have a right to live as they see fit.

The UN is a super-government more deadly than ever was the threat of the KKK. The UN needs to be tarred and feathered and carried out of town on a white oak rail. Abolish the United Nations and we will see racial difficulties disappear as fog before a hot sun.

T. Y. HARP

Schools Infiltrated

Girard, La.

To The Editor:

There is no doubt in my mind, and the records disclose beyond contradiction, our educational institutions have been infiltrated with a group of brain-washing instrumentalities of self-righteousness, of the school of thought of "one-world ideologies, one race, one government, one dictator system to be changed from one to another bunch, by the one eliminating the other by death."

Our educational personnel are improving rapidly in the high school levels, as I observe. The pupils are more orderly. It is obvious, the teachers are more strict, the behavior is manifested in the child that shows discipline in the schools.

The adolescent problem is not to be overlooked. It is by such letters as I am offering, with hopes and my prayers, there will be some thought on the part of the parents to become more interested, in the schools, their children and the advancement or failures, to advance, that they may benefit the child, by knowing the situations. The parental delinquency is an ugly situation.

I am not trying to persuade you to print, or publish my public letter that I might see my name in your most obliging, worthy paper. These letters go to many people throughout the U.S.

The next point of this letter is to show the people how we are stuck with the millions of tons of Russian communistic propaganda free postage.

Sincerely,

CHAS. ROGERS
P.S. The T.V. programs are most disgusting. When mixed in with such screwball stuff that loosing the minds of listeners should they happen to not be aware.

We have got to combat them in our churches, schools, at the polls. They are everywhere. Pulpits no exception.

Police Commended

To The Editor:

Speaking in behalf of the Federated Club Women of the Fifth District of the Louisiana Federation of Women's Clubs, I wish to take this opportunity of expressing ourselves by the way of commending The Monroe Police Department in the steps they are taking to crack down on DWI and bringing these modern enemies of society to justice. One does not have to be a tee-totaler to be sensible. To allow anyone, be it an executive or layman, to use our most needed method of transportation as a lethal weapon to murder or cripple our children and citizenry, would be as negligible of lawful duty as it would be to allow anyone to go about fully armed and shooting guns at will up and down our streets. It takes all the faculties of any sensible person to drive an automobile in today's traffic, and one under the influence cannot be sensible behind the wheel of any motor vehicle.

We are behind our police department and the courts and deplore the stand taken by certain supposedly upright businessmen.

THE BEATITUDES OF FREEDOM

How long has it been since you have really thought about the wonderful freedoms that we enjoy in this nation — freedoms that no other people in the world enjoy? If you do, you will realize how blessed we really are.

Here are a few of the Beatitudes of Freedom as listed by the Church Extension Service, Inc., of Golden, Colorado:

1. Blessed is the nation that enjoys Freedom of Speech, for it is the responsibility to its citizens. Let them be reminded that this is no mere happenstance but rather the result of the foresight and wisdom of the Fathers of the Constitution.

2. Blessed is the nation where Freedom from Fear is the inheritance of its children.

3. Blessed is the nation that maintains the dignity and Freedom of the Press, for as such is the kingdom of tolerance.

4. Blessed is the nation that encourages Freedom of Movement... Let us exercise this freedom each weekend by regular attendance at the church of our choice... lest a great evil befall us.

5. Blessed is the nation that dared to include Freedom of Worship in its charter. This is our sacred patrimony, the most priceless heritage of them all.

6. Blessed is the nation where Freedom to Think (out loud if necessary) is the rule and not the exception; where no ecclesiastical hierarchy proscribes one's religious inclinations into any set pattern, and where one's political interests are not policed.

7. Blessed is the nation that champions Freedom to Read, for great is the measure of its learning. But let not the reading of ordinary books crowd out the reading of THE BOOK, for such is the foolishness of some.

8. Blessed is the nation where Freedom from Want is taken for granted. Rejoice and be exceeding glad to share the bounty with others less fortunate than ourselves.

We enjoy every one of those freedoms and others that could be named. Yet there are those, who, under one disguise or another, for some would allow freedom only so long as the people agreed with them on everything. Regardless of who it might be that tries to take away the freedoms we enjoy, the people should rise up and knock them down.

A MAN CALLED PETE

We have a very interesting person in our town. We discovered him the other day when we came across an article in the Methodist Story, a publication of the Methodist Church. The article was written by Leona Wilson, public relations director for the Louisiana area of the Methodist Church.

The person about whom the story is written is Pete Medak, a member of the Southside Methodist Church in Monroe, which is headed by the Rev. Lea Joyner.

Here in part is the story about Pete:

"Pete Medak has won 115 persons to church membership in the last 10 months. 35 of these were on profession of faith. Sitting in the worship service one Sunday, Pete observed the laymen go to the altar to receive the offering plates for taking the tithes and offerings. He turned to his wife and whispered, 'I would give this church $100 if they would ask me to do something like that.' But it was a big church already rich in lay leadership, and there seemed to be no opportunity for Pete to do more than sit on the pew."

"When a new Methodist church was established in 1952 in the sprawling, growing area of Monroe called Southside, Pete found the answer to his hungering for a church in which to serve. The Medaks were among the first families to join in his first love visitation. Here Pete is at his best. Once he visited a man who had incurable cancer, but the man didn't know the nature of his own illness. Pete felt the urgency of winning this man to the church, and after they had talked for an hour and a half, the man signed a commitment card. Soon after he joined the church, he learned of his incurable disease. This man is dead now, but Pete will never forget the joy and peace the church brought him in his last days."

Among other things the story pointed out that Pete has served in many capacities in the church and is vice president of the Ouachita Juvenile Delinquency Advisory Committee.

Pete is a former professional baseball player. He played with the St. Louis Browns in 1939. At present he is a salesman for a printing company.

NON PUBLIC SCHOOL

Of much interest in the United States was a recent decision of the Alaska Supreme Court which ruled that public school bus transportation cannot be used by students attending private or sectarian schools. By a margin of two to one, the court struck down a statute that extended public school bus transportation to students who attend nonpublic schools.

The majority opinion declared this statute violated both the constitution in effect when Alaska was a territory and the present state constitution that prohibits the use of public funds for the direct benefit of private educational institutions.

In its ruling the court dismissed the "child benefit theory" advanced by the United States Supreme Court in the 1946 Everson decision. A majority of the court ruled in that case that the use of public funds for bus transportation to nonpublic schools benefits the child rather than the school and therefore does not violate the United States constitution.

The Alaskan decision is a most interesting one. Many doubtful things are often employed by various types of schools under the disguise "it is for the best interest of the children." To fight such things often brings one the title of being against school children

FRANK JUNK

Congressmen cut themselves a big hunk of pie in the final crowded hours of the last Congress. This pie will cost the taxpayer many more millions; it will add to the deficit of the Post Office Department. Congress passed a law which allows Congressmen to address speeches, statements and other OFFICIAL BUSINESS to their constituents in cities only as Postal Patron, Goldsboro, or Postal Patron, New York City. Then the burdened postman will deliver each patron the third class junk mail, as it is termed, to every patron on his route.

Previously Congressmen from rural areas had an advantage. They could address printed material to Box Holder, R.F.D. So and So. All they had to do was to consult postal directories and find out the number of boxes on each route. Then they trucked to the burdened post office department a mailing for every box holder on the route. Effect of the new law is to give Congressmen the same privilege in cities.

Last year 108,654,000 items of franked mail were dispatched to the deficit-ridden Post Office. Less than 12 per cent of the population now is rural. It cost taxpayers $2,260,000 to pay for delivery of the franked third class congressional stuff. Under the new law the mailings will climb six or seven times what they are, or instead of Uncle Sam having to foot the bill to the tune of better than $3 million he will have to foot it to the tune of six or seven times that.

COUNTRY CAN USE BETTER

The era of the good salesman is not over. It is just beginning. Take, for example, the case of the Mississippi who made over the playground into the style of the '60s. He stretched a fringe around the ceiling like the surreys used to have on top. Then, to accent it all he decided he wanted an old-fashioned buggy whip for a decorative novelty. So he started out to buy one.

The first clerk asked, laughing, "Are you kidding?" The customer avowed his sincerity. The clerk said, "We ain't got it; don't know where a teller could pick one up." So the prospective customer left store one.

The clerk in store two said, "We don't stock it. Sorry." So the customer went to store three. The clerk said, haughtily, "We haven't carried stuff like that in years. What you want with such a relic anyway?"

The customer felt the clerk had added insult to injury so he went to store four. "Can you sell me a buggy whip?" he asked timidly. "What color?" asked the clerk. "Red," replied the customer, thinking that would set off the other colors in the room. "Have it for you in four days," the clerk assured him.

This piqued the curiosity of the buyer. He asked some questions. "Of course, we haven't handled them in years. We do not stock them. But I have some catalogs and I can order you one by air-mail," the clerk explained. It was true. Within four days the buggy whip came in as red as a freshly painted fire truck.

When the customer came to pick up his buggy whip the clerk asked him about a pine top table and captain's chairs and other needs. The customer bought $407.30 worth of miscellaneous merchandise.

And yet the other salesmen are still standing around griping about lack of sales!

BRIGHT SAYINGS

It pays to treat everybody right. You can't tell who will be on the jury some day.

Most of us had rather have a cold than to take half of the remedies suggested by our friends.

The rule among some of the big labor leaders is to accuse somebody before you are accused. A practical man is one who looks for a wife who already owns a fur coat and has her appendix out.

Magazine Is Comic Charade

THE FUN HOUSE. By William Brinkley. Random House, $5.95.

The scene of this comic charade is a weekly picture magazine called "Vital."

If you were to take Brinkley's account of its staff operations seriously — and you are not expected to — you'd wonder how the publication ever got to press.

The photographers, who hold the highest rank in the magazine's elite, all seem to be prima donnas; the writers are all frustrated characters who act like oddballs; the research girls are forever telephoning celebrities and cabinet members at 4 a.m.; and even the office girls are like figures from a modern novel.

Brinkley has a lot of fun showing how people in the news are likely to fall on their faces to cooperate with a national picture magazine. He shows the whole staff for its addition to six-martini lunches and a penchant for sailing paper airplanes out of the windows. He depicts them as being engrossed chiefly in sex, liquor and padded expense accounts.

There is not much plot in this book. It is more like a gallery of caricatures, most of them pretty funny. The staffers' antics remind you of things you've read about the early days of "The New Yorker," when Harold Ross was running a dizzy menagerie there. But of course Brinkley's book is fiction, which gives him more latitude. The result is an entertaining, offbeat excursion into a lively world.

Reader Lost In 'Wild'

WILDERNESS. By Robert Penn Warren. Random House, $4.35.

Since a novel is supposed to be a story about something, this narrative may be described as the story of a man named Adam Rozenzweig, a Bavarian Jew who decided in the summer of 1863 that his idealistic contribution to the cause of freedom would be to get to America and join the Union cause against the Rebels.

Adam had a crippled foot, so he couldn't qualify as a combat soldier. He wound up as a flunky for a camp follower who peddled goods from a wagon.

True, Adam managed finally to kill a Rebel. Symbolically, he achieved thereby a certain fruition of his desires. Or at least you get that impression. This book is subtitled "A Tale of the Civil War," but actually it might have been — with only minor changes — any dirty, bloody carnage anywhere on the earth's disordered face. The story has nothing to do with the issues of union versus secession. Rather, it is a poetic evocation of the often senseless motives which inspire individual men to sacrifice themselves to an ideal.

Warren is a poet as well as a novelist. His prose, marked by sharp, stark, five-word sentences about his characters' sufferings, has an effective punch. But he seems unable to shake off a poet's tendency to be elliptical, elusive and esoteric. These qualities sometimes enhance poetry, but in prose they can descend into the limbo of arts obscurity.

Sometimes the reason that some people cannot get along together is that their dispositions are too much alike.

When a husband opens the door and helps his wife into the car he has probably just acquired one or the other.

Some men think they are leaders, says Marshall Cann, of Ware Shoals, when they are merely back seat drivers.

PEASANT WOMAN at work in a rice field is one of the studies by Werner Bischof, Magnum photographer, which appears in "Japan." It's the first of a series of fine photographic books to appear in a Bantam paperback edition.

Camera Notes

By IRVING DESFOR

Good photographic books are expensive due to the cost of fine printing and high quality photographic processes. With prices of $10 or more per book, fine editions must seek a select audience that can both appreciate and afford them. These factors tend to limit the number printed and distributed.

An effort is now being made to produce fine illustrated books for a mass audience at a low cost through the economy of paperback book production and a tremendous printing run. At a price of $1.25, it was figured, it will be possible for students and amateur camera fans to own books which have been out of their range till now.

The first four picture books in this new Bantam Gallery Editions series are now available. Each one is 216 pages in length with a paperback format of 4 1/2 by 7 inches in size. All editions are in black and white and reproduced through a fine quality sheet-fed gravure process.

The four, diverse in subject matter but far-reaching in appeal, are: "Japan," photographed by Werner Bischof; "The Civil War as They Knew It," with Lincoln's immortal words and Brady's famous photographs; "Presidents of the U.S.A.," profiles and pictures; and "The Life of Christ," with pictures by the old masters and words of the Holy Bible.

The books are all originals except for Bischof's "Japan." This was previously published in a $10 hard-cover edition which is out of health in order to preserve for print and now a collector's item. It has been rescaled for the nation's war history in pictures.

RUNNING THE SCALES

Power Of Theatre Noted In South

By JOHN CALE

There's nothing like a little Shakespeare to keep the theatrical highlights glowing even during last week's rainy season.

The reception of Jerry Hardin and Diane Hill from the Virginia Barter Theatre on the Northeast series bill of fare last Monday proved once again the power of the stage. Whether from the story of the Old South or from the more ancient Anglo-Saxon generations, it's hard to say. But the spoken word still carries a wide appeal for southern audiences — moreso by these observations than the other art forms.

It follows, then, that a number of southerners have followed stagestruck ambitions. Joshua Loew's with his assertive keyboard game, who reached one of the high technique and temperament was spots of his career as the director of the movie, "Fanny," is a soloist, George Law, in a splendid de Soto Parish native, L. Slade bravado performance of the Schu Brown, former Monrovia, was bert Impromptu in E. Flat, coproducer of the highly successful musical "Bye Bye Birdie."

ACTRESS

News also reached us last week that actress Helen Seamon, daughter of Mrs. A. C. Seamon — formerly Miss Lottise Milner of Monroe, made the tour of Europe during the past summer with Helen Hayes' Theatre Guild American Repertory Company.

The company traveled under the auspices of the State Department as a part of the cultural exchange program and opened in Madrid, Spain. Three plays were included in the group's bill of fare: "The Glass Menagerie," "The Miracle Worker," and "The Skin of our Teeth."

The tour included performances in 17 countries in both Europe and the Near East and ended in Paris. Aside from receptions at American embassies in the various countries visited, the group received favorable notices from foreign audiences and press.

Miss Seamon was born in Pine Bluff, Arkansas, but often visited from her aunt, Mrs. A. D. Wells in her 8, at Monroe's Strauss Playhouse, while growing up. Pri-house on Lamy Lane Viewing or to last summer's trip abroad, hours are daily except Saturday she took part in a Broadway play, from 1-4 p.m.

"Midgie Purvis," starring Tallulah Bankhead. She is at present of 24 Louisiana artists.

studying the script for a new play destined for Broadway later this season. "Natural Affection" Rehearsals are slated to begin in about two weeks.

PIANIST

In a recent article accentuating some new, positive aspects of the same time wishing away the Pericles Alexander of the Shreveports, it's hard to say. But the group's accompanist — He is George (Sandy) Law, West Monroe native who has attended the Shreveport college for the past several years. Said writer Alexander.

Guide To Good Reading

By FRANCES FLANDERS

Questing Pariah Librarian. This past week was National Book Week and the Ouachita Parish Public Library celebrated it with dozens of new books. There are books to appeal to every type of reader. In the field of fiction, the choice is wide. "The Shadow Catcher" is the title of a new book by James D. Horan. This is a novel about the trail-blazing journey of the amazing little band of men and women who in 1830's made their way west to found the first settlement of Americans in the Oregon territory. This is the story of the men and women in this expedition and it is also the story of fascinating story of a man's effort to clear his name. "A Grave Understanding" is the title of a novel of mystery and suspense by Lionel White. The background for this story is a bank robbery, which did not turn out as planned. "The Towers of Love" by Stephen Birmingham is a story of modern life and presents one of the most interesting women of present day fiction. With a Connecticut setting this book will interest many readers.

A historical novel in the great tradition is "The Game of Kings" by Dorothy Dunnett. The time is the year 1547, the scene is Scotland. Mary, later to be Queen of Scots is only four years old. The land is rent and riven by warring loyalties and English raids and plots of brother against brother. To this country, Francis Crawford, Master of Lyndon returns and sets in train a series of events, which make a colorful and exciting story. Rich in background, filled with memorable characters and violent action, the "Game of Kings" is a story to be read and reread. It is a book which will be long remembered.

"A Passion in Rome" is the title of the new novel by Morley Callaghan. It is a story of an American newspaperman and an American singer, whom he tries to save. The setting is interesting and it is a book, which the reader will not soon forget.

"Eagles Where I Walk" is a novel of four great families of Revolutionary New York. He carries the Van Cortlands, the Philipps, the Schuylers and the Livingstons through three generations and paints an unforgettable picture of early America. Another new novel by a major writer is "Wilderness" by Robert Penn Warren. Mr. Warren always writes beautifully and this story of the Civil War will be long remembered.

"Voices In Stone" by Ernst Dobhofer is the enthralling story of the decipherment of ancient scripts and writings. Dr. Dobhofer is an expert himself and he tells with feeling the story of the decipherment of cuneiform and papyrus. He takes us from the land of the Sphinx in Egypt, but it is intended for such expert readers that it can be read by the scholar.

A new book for gardeners is "Are You Your Garden's Worst Pest?" by Cynthia Westcott. It will be well received and eagerly read. W. C. Heinz is the author of "The Fireside Book of Boxing," a collection of stories dealing with the pugilistic art.

A delightful book of humor is "What Every Bachelor Knows" by Corey Ford. This is a book of easy and light reading and will be thoroughly enjoyed by both men and women. A very fine book of history is "The Growth of Southern Civilization, 1790-1860" by Clement Eaton. This is one of the volumes in the New American nation series. The author has done a remarkable piece of research and has given us an excellent view of the forces which molded our nation. Two new biographies of note are "Myths After Lincoln" by Lloyd Lewis and "Jean Jacques Rousseau" by Frances Winwar. Both of these are well done and interesting.

A number of books geared to the teen-age reading level are among the new additions this week. "Around the World Underwater With Captain Edward L. Beach" is an exciting story of early submarine days written by Beril Becker. "Life's Key-DNA" by Carleen Hutchins was a gift to the library. It is an exciting story of experiments in biology and should be most useful. Isaac Asimov is doing a great deal to family singers, capacity, plan make the world of science understandable to young people. His latest book is "Building Blocks of The Universe" and is an exciting story of the world of chemistry.

Another interesting book in the science field is "How Life Goes On" by Irving Schieffer. It is well written and should be most helpful to teenagers. Another exciting book, which will appeal to boys is "Occupation, Adventure" by Jim Thorne. This is the personal story of a man who chooses to live dangerously, following the occupations of diver, underwater photographer and adventurer for science. Another biography for young people is "Nikola Tesla, Giant of Electricity" written by Helen B. Walters. This book should be especially useful to science students.

U.S. Navy Fleet Displays Might

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The U.S. 1st Fleet took to sea Saturday in a display of might originally indefinite for President Kennedy. Instead, Adm. George W. Anderson, chief of naval operations, served fleet operations and an amphibious landing by 1st Division Marines.

He took the place of honor reserved for the President aboard the supercarrier USS Kitty Hawk. Kennedy canceled the engagement to attend the funeral of House Speaker Sam Rayburn in Texas.

The day-long fleet exercise included antisubmarine warfare, gun, missile and air fire-power demonstrations and a landing of Marines at Camp Pendleton.

Open Letter To Dr. Ben Oliphant

November 11, 1961.

Somehow I knew that Dr. Ben Oliphant would answer my letter on UNICEF. However, to arrive at such a deduction does not indicate a gifted foresight. Dr. Oliphant was the logical answer, although he did attack more viciously this time than when I, and others, wrote letters commending our legislators from Ouachita for speaking out against Walter McNier and his communist front American Civil Liberties Union at L.S.U.

This man has asked what I stand for. I surmise by his questions to me, that he has definite opinions on matters of vital importance to our community, our nation and the welfare of future generations. In recognition of Dr. Oliphant's scholarship, his natural ability and training, his position of leadership in the community, I feel that he should carefully check the things I stand for, which are in form of questions to him, and should answer or remain quiet whenever I write on UNICEF.

1. I stand for retaining the Sovereignty of our Nation.

2. I stand for "I am an American" and repudiate the vicious efforts of the communist to teach our children to believe in "one-worldism" and forget their National origin.

3. I stand for the retention of the Connally Amendment.

4. I stand for immediate action against Communist Cuba, where all 4th grade students are being taken from their parents and sent to Russia for indoctrination.

5. I stand for immediate action against those responsible for the shipment of F-86 Sabre Jets to Yugoslavia.

6. I stand not only for refusing Red China admittance to the United Nations but for abolishing the United Nations.

7. I stand for the continuation of the House Un-American Activities Committee.

8. I stand for continuing the showing of the films "Operation Abolition" and "Communist Encirclement" so that our people may be better informed of the Communist threat.

9. I stand for the Sovereignty of the 50 States and the resolute efforts of the majority of the Supreme Court to abolish this Sovereignty (in any field).

Back to UNICEF. Your letter listed the following points:

1. Out of 513 employed by UNICEF, two are citizens of Communist Countries. ANSWER: This is cleverly worded. To be a communist, one does not have to be a citizen of a Communist country. I shall cover this more fully after point 5 below.

2. All of the United States citizens employed by UNICEF have been favorably approved by the International Organizations Employee Board. ANSWER: The key words here are "INTERNATIONAL Organizations." "International Organization" is as much a part of the United Nations as is UNICEF itself. This is saying that UNICEF approves UNICEF.

3. Each employee is subject to investigation by the United States Government. ANSWER: So are "the people on the 4th floor" of the State Department. So are the people of the ilk of Senator Fulbright. "Subject to" fails to clear those charged by the American Legion Committee, those charged by General Walker, the D.A.R., Dr. Fred Schwarz, Ex-FBI Matt Cvetic, Major General C. A. Wiloughby, and countless hundreds of other anti-communist patriots.

4. Favorable testimony of U.S. Government officials has been expressed before Congressional Committees. ANSWER: True. Chester Bowles, Soapy Williams, Adlai Stevenson, to name a few of the better known "One-Worlders" have been given the Children Award by UNICEF. She helped write a book on UNICEF. She has 78 references in the House Un-American Activities Committee index.

5. You state that information was furnished to you by the United States Committee for UNICEF. ANSWER: What a revelation. What a wonderful source of information. Bunk. I have before me a photostatic copy of a bulletin under the letterhead, United States Committee for UNICEF, December 15, 1958. This is entitled, "Memorandum of Information" and goes on to set forth your arguments almost verbatim. This memorandum specifically states that its purpose is to furnish rebuttal information to "a number of committees that have been exposed to false statements about UNICEF." The information that was available to you and which you chose not to use can be easily torn asunder by any American reasonably well informed on the "internationalist" manner of clever wording.

Now, let us get on to this "United States Committee" for UNICEF, that furnished you information. Did they tell you that Lawrence Timbers, Chairman of the Anti-subversive Committee of the American Legion, Department of Washington, proved beyond reasonable doubt that AT LEAST nineteen of the fifty-five members of this same United States National Committee are, or have been, affiliated with ONE OR MORE communist front organizations. Less than 4 per cent of the population of Russia, or any communist nation, are members of the communist Party.

Did the UNICEF People tell you a little about the "Artists" who design their greeting cards that we should buy "to help a child"? (As in my first letter, I do not call them Christmas cards.) Did they tell you that a large per cent of the "Artists" whose work was used in the 1959 season (not 1949 Dr.) are known to have been connected with communist front operations.

What about Hans Erni, who drew the particularly offensive cards entitled "Brothers" and "Community of Man" peddled in 1957? Did they tell you that Brother Erni had been refused admittance to the United States because of his notorious communist activities? Did they tell you that Ben Shahn, who drew the official UNICEF card in 1958, has been connected with at least twenty-one communist fronts, and when recently interrogated by the House Un-American Activities Committee took the fifth Amendment twenty-eight times?

Did they tell you about:

a. Joyce Cambell, UNICEF employee, President of the United Federal Workers Local 12, expelled by C.I.O. as communist.

b. Norman Cousins, member of U. S. Committee for UNICEF, Honorable President United World Federalist and on Board of Directors of American Civil Liberties Union.

c. Fanny Hurst, has forty-four references to affiliations with subversive organizations in House Un-American Activities and Senate 138 index.

d. Danny Kaye, featured by UNICEF through the press, radio, T.V. and movies. Was active in communist front Hollywood Independent Citizens Committee of the Arts, Sciences and Professions. Supported the ten Hollywood writers and actors brought before the HUAC regarding their communist activities and affiliations.

e. Dr. Charles S. Johnson, was on United States Committee for UNICEF affiliated with at least four communist fronts. Has 12 references in index.

f. Doris Lee, 1959 UNICEF Card Artist. Has been affiliated with at least six communist fronts. I have before me a list of dozens and dozens of citations which she prohibits listing, documentation with source information on any or all individuals, and photographs of letters and documents.

6. You list countless numbers of wonderful things accomplished by UNICEF. ANSWER: The authenticity of this statement is very much in doubt. UNICEF reports duplicate and overlap the reports of other United Nations Specialized Agencies, the Health Programs of governments, the Health Programs of Non-governmental organizations, the bi-lateral program in which the United States gives aid to individual Nations, Church and private charities operating in foreign fields. UNICEF HAS NEVER CHALLENGED NOR DISPROVED A SINGLE FACT OF LAWRENCE TIMBERS DOCUMENTATIONS REFUTING THEIR LONG LIST OF CLAIMS OF ACCOMPLISHMENTS.

7. Millions went to mainland China during the time General Chiang Kai Shek was in control. ANSWER: True, but was it for Chiang to use? William Berges, UNICEF representative in China and a communist collaborator, turned the UNICEF supplies over to the Chinese communists. He later openly accused the Americans of being solely responsible for the Korean war. Few ask themselves whether UNICEF's agents in non-communist countries may not use food and money to reward pro-communists. The left-wing influence, centering on George Catlett Marshall, boasted that with a single stroke of a pen 15 divisions of Chiang's men were disarmed, meaning, of course, that food and supplies were withheld.

I agree:

a. That UNICEF cards themselves are the best indication of the mentalities that produce them;

b. That almost all are ugly;

c. That not a few are monstrous;

d. That many are open propaganda, economic or racial for communist ends;

e. That the whole series of UNICEF cards were designed to subvert our Christian ideals, and make a mockery of the observation of the Birth of Christ.

I must ask you agrees with Dr. Nels F. S. Ferre on the following: If not Ferre highly recommended by practically every high official of the National Council of Churches and is he not a staunch supporter of UNICEF? Here are his own words taken from his book, "The Christian Understanding of God," published by Harper and Brothers, of New York, Page 191. Dr. Ferre mercilessly attacks the Virgin Birth of Jesus Christ. I quote: "Strange, however, is the hold which this doctrine (the Virgin Birth) has on countless people. Reference to the Virgin Birth is not found in Paul's letters, the earliest writings we have. It is not found in Mark, the original Gospel. Mary, we remember, was found pregnant before her engagement to mild Joseph. Nazareth was hard by a Roman garrison where the soldiers were German mercenaries. Jesus is also reported throughout a continuous part of the history of art, it is claimed, to have been blond. This is supposedly unnatural for the Mediterranean countries where this same tradition started and was continued. Hence Jesus must have been the child of a German soldier."

In another book, "The Sun and the Umbrella," Ferre says and I quote: "The Christian church has no significant future till it puts away the traditionalistic orthodoxy... for this fundamental theology 'has been challenged, fought and slain.' Of Jesus, Ferre says, 'He is at best a vague figure.' 'He never was nor became God.'"

Of communism, Ferre says: "The communist 'are too sharply aware of the imperfect parts of the Bible and too honest with the truth.' On page 156 of this book, Ferre says: 'We shall witness to the Communist because what ever truth is theirs we accept wholeheartedly, and beyond their truth lies God's truth.' Ferre has lectured at the Southern Baptist Seminary in Louisville, Kentucky. He addressed the Methodist convention held in memory of John Wesley, in Philadelphia.

To me it is a great weakness, a cowardice, not a Christian attitude of action, for an American to meekly agree with the thinking of his Church leaders simply because he feels badly about disputing what is put forth as Church policy. I am not willing to blindly follow those who condone such speakers as Ferre or those leaders who advocate that we abandon our National Sovereignty.

The Halloween campaign money is relatively insignificant and should not really play such an important part in this issue. According to Major Edgar Bundy's analysis of UNICEF's report of the $44,000,000 obtained from the United States (as against $7,000,000 from all other nations) only $2,500,000 came from the sale of cards, collections on Halloween, and direct solicitations combined. Mr. Lawrence Timbers recorded it correctly when he said "the importance of the Halloween campaign is to put churches on public record as favorable to UNICEF, so church leaders will appear before Appropriations Committees of Congress and in the names of their Church organizations urge more millions of dollars in government contributions."

It was reported in an article in the National Educational Association Journal for May, 1959, by an avid UNICEF admirer, that 2,500,000 children were sent out to collect on Halloween. Schools are urged to administer "study units on the interdependency of nations." To follow the Halloween stunt, with a program lasting all year, which will triumphantly "culminate in a miniature United Nations Assembly, with each student representing a country of his choice," wanting our youth to learn cooperation on a broad international basis. Every subtle device is being used to push us gradually into a Socialistic global "welfare state" owned and operated by a Communist "World Government."

But while a generation of pliable serfs brainwashed from childhood is the major long-term objective, UNICEF's fund-raising antics also have a more immediate function. They tend to infect the cooperating teachers, civic leaders, clergymen, and parents with the befuddled "World Mindset" which the Communist conspiracy uses as a poison to kill patriotism, paralyze reason, and anesthetize even the instinct of self preservation.

Throughout UNICEF I find this teaching: "If we are to socialize the child we must release him earlier and earlier from the nuclear family (Mother and Father) to the larger family (the State)."

"UNICEF is an excellent example of big government taking over functions which should be administered by private individuals and organizations. THE GOVERNMENT OF THE UNITED STATES IS NOT A PHILANTHROPIC ORGANIZATION. THERE IS NO CONSTITUTIONAL POWER IN THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT TO DISPERSE PUBLIC MONEY FOR CHARITABLE PROJECTS EITHER AT HOME OR ABROAD, HOWEVER WORTHY."

So, Dr. Oliphant, I do stand for something. Insignificant though I am, I eagerly stand up whenever I can and speak out for America, for the free spirit of mankind of future generations.

Trend Bright For Business Improvements

By JACK LEFLER, AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The eyes of business turned sharply toward 1962 during the week and what they saw was pleasing.

Important segments of the economy made predictions on the outlook for next year. He consensus was that business will improve but won't attain boom proportions.

A forecast that the gross national product—total value of all goods and services—will climb to $577 billion in 1962 from $530 billion on 1961 came out of a meeting of 150 economists at the University of Michigan.

They based their opinion on expected increases in defense spending, inventory accumulation and automobile buying.

A 15- to 20-per cent increase in steel production is likely in January, an industry publication, Iron Age, said. Steel users are expected to expand their orders to meet demands of improving business and to build up inventories as a hedge against a possible steelworkers' strike later next year.

General Motors Corp.'s declaration of a 50-cent extra year-end dividend had been interpreted earlier as a strong indication the automobile industry will have a banner year in 1962.

About two-thirds of 1,400 retailers surveyed said they expected their business to be 5 to 10 per cent better in the first half of next year.

Predictions made by leading industrialists at the annual meeting of the National Industrial Conference Board in Detroit included:

The machinery industry will parallel the economy in a gradual recovery from recession levels.

The outlook for the television appliance industry is good and a sales increase of about 8 per cent is expected.

The construction industry should operate at even higher levels than in 1961.

Prospects of better business impressed investors and the stock market racked up all-time highs, as measured by the popular averages, on three successive days during the week.

The automobile sales picture has brightened considerably and some dealers complained they weren't getting enough cars to satisfy the demand.

Sales of new cars boomed to a record 198,225 in the first 10 days of November. This prompted Lee A. Iacocca, vice president of Ford Motor Co., to predict an industry sales record of 570,000 passenger cars, including imported models, for November.

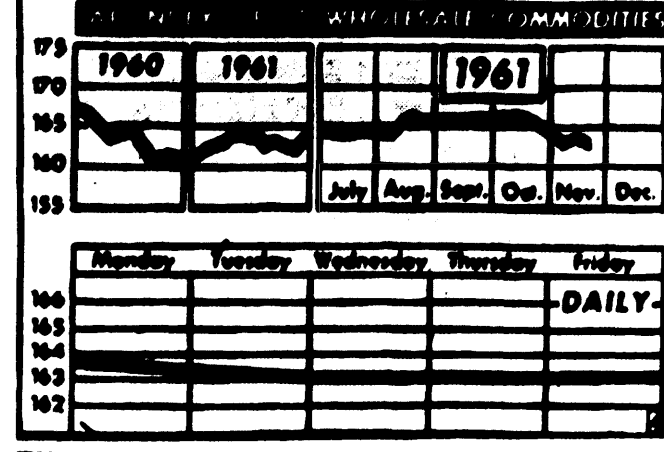

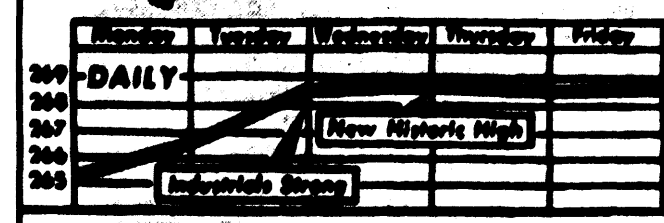

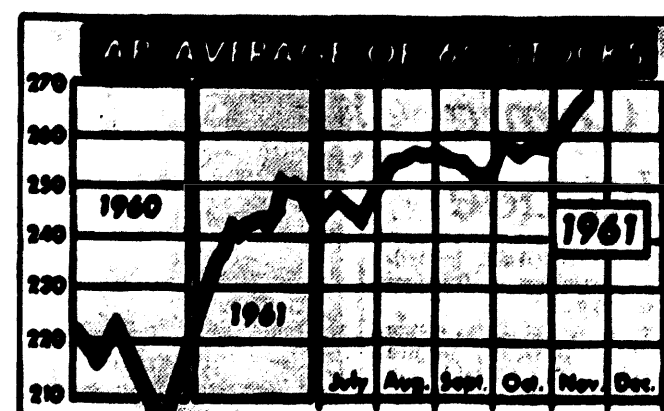

The industry built its 1.5 millionth car of the year during the week and expected to reach 1.5 million by the year's end. Production for the week rose to an estimated 155,000 cars, compared with 152,376 last week and 149,866 a year ago.

Steel production inched upward to 2,046,000 tons from 2,044,000 the previous week. This brought production for the first 45 weeks of the year to $2,811,000 tons, down from $2,872,000 tons for the comparable period of last year.

Walter W. Heller, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, said the Kennedy administration intends to take new steps to create jobs if unemployment fails to decline substantially in the coming months. He did not spell out what action might be taken.

But he said the administration was confident that continuing recovery in the months ahead will significantly reduce unemployment.

Thousands of oil men gathered in Chicago for the annual meeting of the American Petroleum Institute. They were told by John M. Kelly, assistant secretary of the interior and a former oil man, to quit looking to the federal government to solve the industry's problems. He suggested they increase efforts to cut costs and to develop new uses for petroleum.

THE ASSOCIATED Press average of 60 stocks moved higher for the third straight week, closing the week at 268.7 from 265.1 a week ago. The week's volume was largest since late May. The commodity index, led by industrials, declined this week, closing at 163.0 from 163.8 a week earlier. (AP Wirephoto Chart)

MISSISSIPPI OIL

Company Prepares To Test Production

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Transition and Dixilyn Corp. were below State Oil Co. prepared to run production tests in an Amite County field. The field is about 11 miles southwest of the Smithdale field.

Operators of the Kenna Heirs No. 1, sec. 25-4n-5e, have perforated at 11,058-60 feet to check completion behind the casing.

A workover rig was moved in and operators were expected to perforate 11,051-60 feet in an effort to complete the well as a commercial producer.

Texaco, Inc., was running production tests at a Lamar County well, the Davi No. 1, sec. 2-5n-6w, about two miles northwest of Sumrall.

Production tests continued at a Smith County wildcat, the Hough No. 1, sec. 6-10n-16w, a mile southeast of the Magee oil field. Cities Service Oil Co. perforated and tested a zone at 13,102 feet.

The well has tested 195 barrels of oil per day from perforations at 13,780-92 feet. A perforated interval at 13,132-44 feet gauged 1,715,000 cubic feet of gas per day.

In Wallthall County, southwest of the Dexter field, B. E. Gamble was drilling below 9,700 feet in a wildcat, the Duncan No. 1, sec. 25-1n-1e, a 14,000-foot test.

In Pike County, Hess Production Co. was running production tests at a Lamar County well, the Davi No. 1, sec. 2-5n-6w, about two miles northwest of Sumrall.

Louisiana Tech Storms Northeast State, 27-7

Tigers, Lulled By Bowl Talk, Almost Upset

By JACK GATES
Executive Editor of The News-Star-World

BATON ROUGE—Louisiana State University, with too much bowl talk swirling around its head, barely escaped defeat tonight as the first Mississippi State team held the

STATISTICS	MISS.	STATE
First downs	13	18
Rushing yardage	137	257
Passing yardage	79	27

Tigers to a 14 to 6 victory, the score of which doesn't even begin to tell the story.

In a rock-and-sock game, the Maroons battled the Tigers all the way and only in the final three minutes of play when LSU scored its second touchdown did the crowd of 57,000 start breathing a little easier.

At one point in the third period, Mississippi State was within one point and elected to go for two rather than a single conversion. It failed and the Tigers held on by the hardest until they got their final score on a one-yard plunge by fullback Earl Gros, who had set it up with a 49 yard run.

All the scoring came in the second half after a bruising defensive first half. Pass interceptions and fumbles gave each team several opportunities, but defensive efforts halted all but three touchdowns, two for LSU and one for the Maroons.

LSU scored first, taking the ball on its own 30 and driving 69 yards in 14 plays for the tally. It was LSU's Go Team that broke the ice. The score came with only 3:39 left in the third period.

State fired back, taking the ball on its own 33 and driving 67 yards in 10 plays, with quarterback Bill Hill tossing to end Johnny Baker for 11 yards and the score. It was at this point that State went for two points instead of one and failed.

With only a short time left to play, Gros intercepted a Hill pass on his 32 and rambled to the 48 before he was pushed out. On the next play, Gros broke loose and appeared headed for a touchdown until Charlie Furlow, who had an angle on him, crashed him to the ground at the two. However, two plays later, Gros crashed over from the one and halfback Wendell Harris converted, his second of the night.

The first LSU touchdown came on a one-yard plunge by halfback Ray Wilkins.

It was a brilliantly-played football game and it appeared for a while the Tigers would go the way of a number of other teams Saturday. But they pulled it out over a team that probably gives them the hardest game of any team during the season.

There were numerous Tiger heroes and goats. Danny Neumann of Tallulah lifted many booming punts that carried the Tigers out of trouble. In all, he kicked three times for 130 yards and a 43.3 average. Jerry Stovall of West Monroe booted twice for 64 yards and a 32 average.

In the first half, neither team showed much offensive power, while both units shook out defensively. In the first period, LSU penetrated to State's 45-yard line for its furthest point, while the Maroons moved to the LSU 47.

In the second period, LSU got itself into a hole when Stovall tried a quick kick from his 39. Tackler Howard Benton crashed and blocked it while guard Robert Shaw, his teammate, recovered it for State. However, State couldn't move enough for a first down, and halfback Sammy Bantone tried a field goal, which was wide and short.

Trying to get into the scoring column, the Tigers came back and appeared to be moving until halfback Charles Cranford fumbled on his 45 and Benton recovered it for State.

Neither team could remove for the remainder of the first half. On the second time the Tigers took the ball in the third period, they started their long march to a score, with the hearts of the LSU partisan crowd in their collective throats.

When it appeared the Tigers were bogged down on their own 10, Go Team quarterback Lynn Medee rolled out and hit Cranford with a 15-yarder to keep the live alive. Two plays later, he and Billy Treux with a nine-yarder took the ball to the 20. On the 26, two plays later, halfback Bo Campbell of Shreveport shed 16 yards to the State line. Wilkins hit the line twice and moved only a yard on each play. Then on third play from one he dived over the line to score.

On the kickoff, Mississippi State, always tough on defense started its scoring drive, aided by a 26-yard dash by Hill, who almost broke all the way. He was finally caught from behind by Monk Guillot at the 15. Three plays later, Hill hit Baker with the touchdown pass, with Baker catching it just over the goal line.

Hill tried to hit halfback Sonny Fisher for a two-point conversion, but it was low and wide. Then LSU mid-way of the final

LSU HALFBACK Wendell Harris (26) tries to dive over the Mississippi State forward wall for yardage in last night's game in Baton Rouge. The play went for two yards before State's end David

Kelly maked the stop. The Bengals went on to win their ninth straight game by stopping the Maroons 14-6. (AP Wirephoto)

FREEDOM IN BOWLS, REGULAR GAMES

Reaffirm Louisiana State Stand Against Racial Bans

By JACK OWENS

BATON ROUGE (AP) — The ghost of a segregation barrier faded away Saturday in the face of Louisiana State's desire to play football in any post-season bowl game offered.

The LSU board of supervisors unanimously re-affirmed a 1956 policy, unchanged through five years of legal and legislative battles over desegregation, saying the university would schedule varsity athletic contests with "manor institutions of this and other sections of the country." The action cleared the way for LSU to compete with any team, racially integrated or not, in the Orange Bowl or the Rose Bowl. The same applies to regular season games in all sports.

A statement issued after a 2½-hour closed meeting said the board decided to "maintain its above stated long-standing athletic policy."

"It is based on the conviction that a major university should carry on a program of intercollegiate athletics against major competition."

"This board believes," the statement said, "that such a policy is important to the university's program and is in accord with the public interest."

The 15 LSU supervisors, in whose hands the university's government rests, apparently took the stand that no new policy had to be set on scheduling of sports contests.

They met in secret, and little was said afterward by the members or the university administration.

An LSU source told a newsman the supervisors had to take a long-term policy out look, and the decision stood for all future sports contests, not merely for post-season games or football.

In recent years, LSU board policy has been given as the only remaining reason for athletic teams to stay out of contests in which teams had Negro players. The LSU supervisors Saturday apparently thought differently.

The policy cited was set Feb. 18, 1956. Since that time, the Louisiana Legislature has passed a law prohibiting state schools from competing in intercollegiate sports contests, and the U. S. Supreme Court nullified it.

There was some protest from segregationists after LSU declined an invitation to the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans and indicated it was interested in an out-of-state trip.

The State Sovereignty Commission, dedicated to preserving states rights and segregation, met Friday amid unofficial indications it would take up the matter of LSU possibly playing a team having Negro players. But afterward, the Sovereignty Commission declined any comment.

The LSU board met as a "committee of the whole," casting a legal question on any change of policy it may have taken until ratification in a regular called meeting. But today's move apparently represented no policy change, so LSU is right where it was before the desegregation battle began.

Eros Quintet, Grayson Girls Win Tourney

EROS, La. (Special) — The Eros Black Panthers, Class B state title runners-up last season, won their own Eros Invitational Tournament last night by beating Weston High's Wolves, 48-38.

Grayson won the girls' division, whipping Chatham High, 53-5.

All state Eugene Harper led the Eros triumph with 24 points with 11-101 support from David Lewis. All-district Larry Watkins was Weston's top scorer with 11, trailed by Huddleston with 10. It was the 12th win in 15 games for the Panthers.

Grayson's May was high scorer in the girls' contest with 37 points. Lou Ann Simmons paced Chatham with 26.

In semi-final games yesterday, the Eros boys beat St. Matthew's of Monroe, 54-40, and Weston's boys stopped Sikes, 54-49; the Grayson sextet toppled Weston, 47-30, and Chatham's girls squeezed past Ouachita of Monroe, 46-44.

Missouri Races

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — The Missouri Tigers scored on three lengthy touchdown drives and got a cheap one for an easy score and gained a 27-9 victory over Kansas State in a Big Eight football game Saturday.

The Tigers lost four regulars by injury, including both ends and two backs, in the roughly played game before 29,000.

Warren Easton Drops Fortier In 20-0 Scrap

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Warren Easton blanked Fortier 20-0 Saturday to the East Jefferson for the New Orleans public school triple-A football championship.

The two schools were expected to play off the tie this week with the winner meeting the New Orleans Catholic champion in the state playoffs.

Fullback Ricky Wharton put the Eagles ahead in the first quarter on a six-yard burst up the middle. Halfback Danny Patterson ran through right tackle for 23 yards for the second touchdown in the second period.

Easton's final score came on a 52-yard pass from quarterback David Pecquet to end Bob O'Brien in the fourth quarter. Monte Davis kicked two conversions.

Duke Tops NC, 6-3 Behind Reynolds

DURHAM, N.C. (AP) — Halfback Bill Reynolds booted a dramatic, 39-yard field goal with only two seconds remaining to give Duke a 6-3 football victory over arch-rival North Carolina Saturday.

The victory wrapped up the Atlantic Coast Conference championship for the Blue Devils for the second year in a row.

Bulldogs Able To Score TDs Every Quarter

By RICK BRYAN

RUSTON (Special) — Louisiana Tech's football team struck by land and by air with a methodical offensive assault here last night to crumple Northeast State College 27-7 and thus make certain it would not be the first Bulldogs eleven in ten years to have a losing season or drop three straight games.

For the first time in three weeks the Canines were able to operate on a dry field and the 7,000 assembled in Tech Stadium on the cold, November night watched the Bulldogs use the dry field to unleash their herald passing attack plus a new found running game that gave them a 6-4 season and proved they were still a fine, well-drilled small college team.

Cool, calm Mickey Slaughter, the junior quarterback sensation from Alexandria, directed Tech on scoring drives of 71, 64, 36 and 87 yards as the Bulldogs scored single touchdowns in each period.

Tech scored the first time it got the ball, going 71 yards to paydirt after receiving the opening kickoff.

Senior halfback Jack Lestage, a Lake Charles product, got the TD on a one yard run.

Kicking specialist Bud Alexander, one of 12 seniors playing their final game, kicked the first of three extra points and Tech led 7-0 with 5:33 gone in the game.

Oak Grove freshman, Ronnie Myrick, who was death on the option in the first half scored the TD with an eight yard jaunt around his left flank.

Fullback Willie Ragan of Monroe, split the uprights to tie the score at 7-7 with 2:06 remaining in the quarter.

Tech went ahead to stay with only 3:33 gone in the second stanza when Slaughter capped a 64-yard drive by catching Sulphur sophomore end Billy Keever in the end zone on a wobbly pass.

Alexander's kick made it 14-7. The Canines scored again early in the third period when fullback Wayne Parker, a senior from Minden capped a 36-yard march by driving across from the one.

The Alexander - kicked PAT, made it 21-7 with 8:09 to go in the third quarter.

Tech's last touchdown was in the final period and came on a ten-yard jaunt by halfback Mickey Strother that capped an 87-yard march.

Alexander's boot was wide. For Northeast it was the same old story. The Indians have beaten Tech only once in the nine year series that started in 1953.

For a while it looked as though they might win or at least stay close.

But up the middle the going was rougher. Tech's rugged interior line presented a solid blue front to most of the running plays and the linemen were able to crash in and harass Northeast passers effectively. As the game wore on the Tech defense became even stronger.

Myrick was Northeast's top gainer with 34 yards on 10 carries. Devone Payne, another Monroe fullback, was second with 23 on four tries.

Freshman end Wendell Drost from Sulphur was probably the Tribe's top lineman.

Tech's offense worked better than it has since the opening game against Arkansas State in September.

At least the Canine ground game worked and the Bulldogs scrambled for 203 yards: 137 passing. Most of it came from the peerless Slaughter who hit eight of 10 for 109 yards.

In contrast Northeast, with a fine running game most of this year, was held to 85 yards rushing and 59 passing.

Lestage and halfback Andy Farless a senior from Vivian, led the Canine land show with 46 yards apiece. Farless on five carries and Lestage on 12.

Tech used a bevy of receivers to take the pressure off its great end Jerry Griffin, but the Springhill junior still caught two for 26 yards. Senior end Jim Sumnerlin, a Mansfield product, added 23 yards on two catches.

Slaughter's performance hiked his offensive total to 856 yards for the nine game season. The first team All-GSC signal caller has now completed 82 of 127 passes.

The game gave Northeast a 3-7 mark, identical with its 1960 record.

But the Tribe did improve vastly on their offensive showing of a year ago and against much stronger opposition.

With the win, Tech broke a

DON CAMPBELL (24), Southern Methodist back, received a pass in the second quarter of yesterday's game against Arkansas in Dallas. Campbell picked up 12 yards and a first down before being brought down by Jim Worthington (42) and George McKinney. The Razorbacks defeated the Mustangs 21-7, and that, coupled with Texas' 6-0 loss to TCU, put the Hogs in a tie for the SWC lead. Both Texas and Arkansas now have a 5-2 conference record. (AP Wirephoto)

TCU Uses 50-Yard Pass To Upset No. 1 Texas, 6-0

By TED SMITH

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Texas, the nation's No. 1 football team, was upset Saturday 6-0 by its old nemesis, Texas Christian, by means of crushing line play and a 50-yard pass.

The pass, from the 67 TCU quarterback Sonny Gibbs to end Buddy Iles, came in the second period and was the only score of the bruising game.

Jimmy Saxton, the tricky Texas halfback, broke loose for sensational gains—the best for 45 yards on a flare pass at the start of the game—but never could score.

the game—but never could score. Twice he was so badly shaken up he had to be taken out. A crowd of 50,000 screamed encouragement to Texas, unbeaten in eight starts and never held to less than four touchdowns this season. But TCU, which went into the game the underdog by 25 points and sporting a record that included four defeats, could not be denied.

Had Texas won it would have been assured at least a tie with Arkansas for the Southwest Conference championship, and a place in the Cotton Bowl. Now Texas game next Thursday may be the deciding contest.

Iles, in addition to catching the touchdown pass, played an outstanding game on both offense and defense.

The stunning upset paralleled one of 20 years ago when Texas, rated No. 1 in the land, was first tied by Baylor and then sent down to a 14-7 defeat by lightly regarded Texas Christian.

TCU scored its touchdown after starting from the 20 when Jack Collins punted into the end zone. After punting up to the 34, Tom Crutcher passed 11 yards to Iles and line plungers carried the ball exactly to midfield.

There Gibbs, probably the tallest quarterback in college ranks, calmly faded back as Iles outlined the Texas defense. The big TCU end caught the long pass on the 8 and plunged over for the touchdown.

Jimmy McMeer's try for the extra point was blocked.

Huskies Spring Upset On UCLA

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Charlie Mitchell's 90-yard return of the opening kickoff for a touchdown Saturday set the tempo for University of Washington's 17-13 Big Five upset victory over heavily favored UCLA.

The Huskies took a 10-0 lead in the first three minutes of play, yards to score.

After Mel Profit's fumble recovery on the Washington 32, Bobby Smith passed 27 yards to Chuck Hicks to get in scoring territory. Mike Halfner then plunged the final yard.

Despite the loss, UCLA still straight win over the UCLA Bruins who had been unbeaten in Big Five until Saturday.

The speedy Mitchell scooped up the 10-0 lead, raced straight into the middle and was in the clear by the time he passed his UCLA 40.

Satan 5-Length Futurity Winner

BALTIMORE (AP)—Crimson King Farm's Satan made a longshot ridden a strong bid Saturday for 1961 Futurity honors by taking a five-length victory in the $116,920 Pimlico Futurity.

Trailing with 3½ furlongs left to go, jockey Willie Shoemaker took Crimson Satan around one rival, sneaked through along the rail to pass four others and then sped past the pacesetter, Green Ticket, at the top of the stretch.

The winner, a $260,000, circled the mile-and-a-half course in 1:46.25 on a "slow" track.

Green Ticket, a longshot ridden by Eric Guerin, held on for second money—$22,344. Crimson Satan's third-place finisher was $72,383.

George D. Widener's Endymion, who won the Garden State Stakes, a two-year-old stakes race, was the 1946th favorite of the 1946th patrons that was betting was called off by Pimlico race track officials.

A minus pool developed in the place wagering, however, and $1,025 had to be posted to pay off the required $220 to place on the favorite.

Mr. Herbert Herff's Obey, second choice in the betting, paced Green Ticket in the early running, but stopped badly and finished last.

Shoemaker didn't have much to say when he returned to the winner's circle.

"Nothing unexpected happened and I wasn't worried about anything. I really didn't feel like any of those horses could give us much trouble," he reported. There were seven two-year-olds in the field.

The winner's time was the slowest in the 39-year-old Futurity since Nail won on a slow track in 1955.

Arcaro once again failed to post a victory in the Futurity. The 45-year-old jockey, who finished second aboard favored Kelo in the $100,000 Washington, D.C. International at Laurel last Saturday, has made 11 starts in the annual fall event.

Miller, Richter Lead Wisconsin By Illinois, 55-7

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Wisconsin unloaded a blistering attack spearheaded by the brilliant passing combination of Ron Miller to Pat Richter and burned hapless Illinois 55-7 Saturday in the biggest rout of a 66-year-old Big Ten football rivalry.

Miller completed 11 of 15 passes, including his last 10 in a row, for 183 yards and three touchdowns, while Richter grabbed three scoring tosses as Wisconsin ran up its biggest conference point total since a 56-0 thumping of Northwestern in 1912.

Sophomore speedster Lou Holland shared individual honors by passing 22 yards to Richter on the halfback option play for the first touchdown and then racing for two scores himself.

'Bama Leaps Georgia Tech Hurdle For Ninth Victory

By VERNON BUTLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Alabama, with Auburn still to come, has a 9-0 record and ranks high on the list of every bowl in the country, including the prestigious Rose Bowl by following the furious running of fullback Mike Fracchia to a 10-0 triumph over Georgia Tech.

The nation's No. 2 power mixed its matchless defense with Fracchia's charges and the poised passing and running of quarterback

the game—but never could score. Twice he was so badly shaken up

TCU's third in nine games, but it remains in the bowl picture with a game with Georgia left to play. Fracchia put the first points on the board in the bruising Southeastern Conference clash when he turned right end behind fullback Billy Richardson's savage block and raced 16 yards for a touchdown in the second period. Sophomore specialist Tim Davis converted and added a 32-yard field goal in the third quarter.

Not until the fourth quarter did Tech cross midfield under its own power, and the Engineers were pushed back to their own 46 on that occasion when Alabama guard Jimmy Wilson hurled quarterback Billy Lothridge for a 13-yard loss.

Alabama's iron defense, best in the nation, stopped every Tech effort to mount an offense. Tech got the first break when guard Dave Watson recovered Trammell's early fumble at the Alabama 42. But the Engineers couldn't move the ball in the face of terrific resistance generated by tackles Charley Pell and Billy Neighbors and linebackers Darwin Holt and Lee Roy Jordan.

Tech was keyed for a tremendous upset effort following its loss last week to Tennessee, but there was no question about Alabama's superiority.

MORE NEWS MONDAY

Tigers, Engineers In Orange Plans

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI)—Clay, chairman of the bowl's selection committee, and general manager Bernie Seller, Georgia Tech had been considered a strong contender until its defeat by the second-ranked Crimson Tide which left the Engineers with a 6-3 won-lost record.

"We were quite naturally disappointed over the game," Kussrow said. "But Georgia Tech is not out of the running. But of course today is not over yet and a number of things could happen to change the picture."

Kussrow said the Orange Bowl selection committee would meet Monday to discuss the possibilities for the Jan. 1 contest at Miami to oppose a school from the Big Eight Conference.

Kussrow was here with Everett

Once beaten Louisiana State, which met Mississippi State Saturday night, cleared the way for an Orange Bowl invitation and possibly a bid from the Rose Bowl by reaffirming a non-segregation policy in athletic contests.

The policy had been adopted first in 1956 but the Louisiana legislature then banned interracial athletics. That ban was later thrown out by the U. S. Supreme Court.

Asked if Alabama was also being considered for the Orange Bowl, Kussrow said he felt the Crimson Tide had "committed" itself some time ago.

Lincoln, Neb. (AP)—Eight-ranked Colorado, beset by misfortune, finally got a break, converted it into a third quarter touchdown and rolled to a 7-0 Big Eight Conference football victory over Nebraska Saturday.

Frustrated twice in the third quarter by fumbles with touchdowns in sight, Colorado broke the "scoreless" duel after halfback Claude Crabbe recovered a Nebraska fumble on the Cornhusker 11.

A short ground gain by Leon Mavity in combination with a personal foul penalty on Nebraska advanced the ball to the 3. A two-yard plunge by Loren Schweninger put Gale Weidner in position for a one-yard scoring plunge and Jerry Hillebrand added the point.

Hot in pursuit of its first Big Eight title, Colorado needs only to conquer Iowa State next week to post an unbeaten season in the loop.

Colorado was the complete statistical master in the mud of Memorial Stadium, Nebraska failed to gain a first down and couldn't manage even to cross the midfield stripe until the fourth quarter. But Nebraska defenses were grudging when Colorado penetrated deeply.

Twice in the first half, Colorado's Hillebrand resorted to field goal attempts. A 45-yard try in the first quarter fell short, and a 35-yard attempt in the second quarter sailed wide. Another 32-yard try in the final period was partially blocked.

NEW YORK (AP)—Halfback Mike McClellan sped 75 yards to a touchdown in the opening five minutes on a tricky quick-snap play that caught Army napping Saturday and Oklahoma went on to a 14-8 football victory over the Cadets at Yankee Stadium.

The Cadets were usually coming out of their defensive huddle when Jimmy Carpenter, Sooner halfback, took the ball from center and lateraled to McClellan, who took off around his left end.

Army players, surprised by the maneuver, stood by with their mouths open as the rangy speedster from Stamford, Conn., raced three-quarters the length of the field to a score. The play was specially designed by Oklahoma scouts to take advantage of Army's slowness in snapping into defensive formation.

Oklahoma added a second touchdown in the final minute of the third period on a 19-yard plunge by quarterback Bob Page, climaxing a 77-yard march.

Baylor Puts Air Force To Rout, 31 To 7

WACO, Tex. (AP)—Halfback Ronnie Bull ignited the fuse under Baylor's fizzling Bears and the Golden Bruins exploded for a decisive 31-7 victory over the Air Force Academy in an intercollegiate football game Saturday.

The Bears, unbeaten in non-league warfare but a four-time loser in the Southwest Conference, uncorked a sparkling offensive attack headed by Bull but bolstered by a trio of slippery backs.

Bull slammed through the faltering Falcon defense for 8 yards and one touchdown, took a 28-yard pass from Don Trull for another and then saw a great 75-yard TD romp wiped out by a holding penalty.

It was a bleak, chilly day for the Cadets, who were plagued by fumbles and pass interceptions en route to their fifth setback against three victories.

Tulsa Defeated By Iowa State

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Iowa State completed a sweep over Oklahoma's football big three with a 27-6 victory over Tulsa Saturday.

The Cyclones ground out three touchdowns with a single wing power pacer by tailback Dave Hoover, and added one tally on a flashing 89-yard run by wingback J. W. Burden from a fake kick.

CLEMSON, S.C. (AP)—Clemson swamped Furman's football upset hopes Saturday under a barrage of touchdowns, winning handily 35-6.

Auburn Wins Over Georgia By 10-7 Count

ATHENS, Ga. (AP)—Quarterback Bobby Hunt steered the Auburn Tigers to a 10-7 victory over Georgia Saturday in a pulsating battle of the breaks.

Fumbles were frequent in the Southeastern Conference fray, witnessed by 41,000 chilled fans.

Pass interceptions and penalties also played an important part in the outcome. The game was played in 50-degree weather under cloudy skies.

A 47-yard field goal by Woody Woodall in the second quarter gave Auburn a lead it never lost. It was the longest field goal ever booted by an Auburn player.

Hunt, a 21-year-old senior from Lanett, Ala., scored an Auburn touchdown midway in the second quarter on a 10-yard burst around right end. The 180-pound signal caller set the score up himself with two runs good for 14 yards and a 19-yard pass to end Dave Edwards.

Georgia tried hard to pull an upset in the final home game of the year, but an aroused Auburn line, led by Billy Wilson, stifled most of the Bulldogs' offense. The Tigers staged a tremendous goal line stand which squelched the final Georgia threat in the fourth quarter. Wilson and his mates held Georgia fullback Gil Godfrey 6 inches short of the goal. Neither team threatened thereafter.

Middies Win 13-3 As Sai Scores Twice

By BUDD THALMAN

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Halfback John Sai of Oakland, Calif., climaxed Navy scoring drives of 69 and 37 yards with short touchdown bursts to lead the Middies to a hard-fought 13-3 victory over Virginia before 23,565 in Navy-Marine Corps Memorial Stadium Saturday.

Sai, a hard-running sophomore, went 6 yards for the first Navy touchdown after the Middies had taken the opening kickoff and driven from their own 31. Sai reeled off a 33-yard run on the march, but the play was nullified by a holding penalty.

The 5-8, 180-pound halfback got Navy's other touchdown on a 1-yard plunge moments before the half.

The victory was Navy's sixth in nine games this season and the Middies' 19th in 21 games with the Cavaliers. Virginia now shows three victories in eight starts this season.

It is planned to sponsor a Pee Wee League for boys 12 years old and under, a Midget League for boys 14 and under, Junior League for boys 16 and under, the Church Leagues, open to all churches of the area, the City League, open to all adult men with no age limit, and the Ladies League for girls and women 16 years old and over.

The meetings schedule:

Monday, City League, 7 p.m.; Church League, 7:30 p.m.; Ladies League, 8 p.m.

Tuesday, Pee Wee, 6:30 p.m.; Midget League, 7 p.m.; Junior League, 7:30 p.m.

All meetings will be at the Monroe Community Center, 115 Catalpa street.

Play will begin the week of November 27. Particulars concerning the leagues may be obtained from Jackie Neal at the Community Center.

Irish Get By Syracuse 11 On Field Goal

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—A 15-yard rushing penalty called with no time remaining on the clock, set up Joe Perkowski's 41-yard field goal Saturday that dramatically gave Notre Dame a 15-0 victory over Syracuse.

Notre Dame fans went wild, pouring into the field to hoist the ever kicking specialist from Wilkes-Barre, Pa., to their shoulders.

The gridiron became a mob scene after that with the band playing the victory march and hundreds of shouting students milling around.

It was Perkowski's fifth field goal of the season for a school record and the second one he booted to win a game. He did it to beat Purdue 22-20 early in the season.

Adding to the bizarre ending was the roughing-the-holder penalty against Syracuse. With the clock showing no time, Perkowski tried a field goal from the Orange 44 with George Sefcik holding the ball Walter Sweeney, a 225-pound junior end, charged through and spun into Sefcik.

The Orangemen—who drew a total of 80 yards in penalties—were set back 15. It gave the sure-footed Perkowski another chance and the kick was perfect.

Up until the fabulous field goal, Syracuse appeared to be on its way to a seventh triumph in nine starts that would keep its bowl hopes burning.

Princeton's Ivy Hopes Held Up

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP)—Princeton kept alive its hopes of any Ivy League title Saturday by thumping Yale 26-16 with Pete Porietis a sophomore tailback, at the controls.

Porietis, taking over when both Greg Riley and Hugh MacMillan were injured in earlier games, ran as New Mexico handed Colorado 44 yards for one touchdown and State University it's 16th straight football beating 20-8 Saturday.

Calhoun Boys, Marion Girls Win Crowns

DOWNSTOWN (Special)—Calhoun's boys raced by Downsville 39-42, and the Marion girls topped Calhoun 63-41 to take championship honors in their respective divisions of the Downsville Basketball Tournament here last night.

Paul Thompson of Calhoun was selected the Most Valuable Player in the boys division, and Wanda Brasher of Marion received the MVP award in the girls division.

In yesterday's boys semi-final contest, Calhoun downed Spearsville 49-40 and Thompson led the way for the winners as he popped in 13 points. Joey Barron fired in 22 for the losers.

Marion rolled over Bernice 44-25 in the girls semi-finals, as Brasher scored 22 for the victors. Mary Colvin provided most of the offense for Bernice with 14 points.

In the championship game, Hut Weems was Calhoun's top scorer with 12, and Larry Antle poked in 17 for Downsville.

Eadine Binford sparked Marion's victory in their girls' championship tilt with 38 points while Diane Saxon led Calhoun with 16.

New Mexico Wins

FORT COLLINS, Colo. (AP)—Quarterback Jim Cronmartie engineered two long scoring drives and plunged for both touchdowns as New Mexico handed Colorado 44 yards for one touchdown and State University it's 16th straight football beating 20-8 Saturday.

Tribal Hoop Artists Boast Veteran Guards This Year

Northeast State basketball teams have always been well supplied with good guards — Melvin Gibson, Bob Patterson, John Freeman, Mickey Kitchens and Sid Bradley to name a few — and the 1961-62 club is no exception. Coach Lenny Fant has his 1961-62 guard corps returning intact this season and the backcourt should be the Indiana's strongest point. All-GSC Lenny Johnson and Stuart Toms head the returnees and will start Tuesday night when the Tribe cagers open their 1961-62 season against Arkansas A&M in Monticello, Ark. The Indians open their home campaign Dec. 4 against East Texas Baptist.

Sanders Leading Cajun 2 Strokes

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP) — Doug Sanders boomed into a two-stroke lead in the Cajun Classic Saturday with his third successive 67.

Lions Topple Demons, 19-0, In Last Game

HAMMOND, La. (AP) — Billy Laddner scored two touchdowns to break a school scoring record Saturday as Southeastern Louisiana blanked Northwestern State College 19-0 in the season finale for both Gulf State's Conference teams.

SLC, whose hopes for an undefeated season were shattered last week by McNeese, dominated play as it rolled to its ninth victory in 10 games. SLC held NSC to one completed pass and that came in the closing minute.

Elbert Harris went over from the one mid-air in the first period to cap a 57-yard SLC drive. Kenneth Dyer kicked the extra point.

With 4:18 to go in the half, Laddner scooted 47 yards for the second TD, and late in the third period he took a 19-yard pass from Harris for the third score.

Laddner ran his season point total to 66. The old SLC record was set by Don Marino who scored 64 points for the undefeated 1954 team.

Heard Heading King Fins; Gar Spearing Dates

The King Fin Divers, skin diving club of West Monroe, have elected Jessie H. Heard as president for their new year.

Other officers elected were R. H. Hoffer, vice president, and J. F. Echlin, dive master.

Hoffer, also serving as secretary for the King Fins, said members of the club will also participate in the underwater spearfishing contest to be held at Lake Bristeau, near Shreveport, throughout the day of next Sunday.

More than 200 skin divers from throughout Louisiana and neighboring states are expected for the contest and the pre-meet social darts to be held at Shreveport next Saturday night.

Salley of Pleasant Hill, Spike Smith of Calhoun, Charlie Biggar of Monroe and Buddy Embanato. Johnson established himself as one of the finest basketballers in Northeast history last season, leading the Gulf States Conference in league scoring, placing second among GSC players in season scoring and making the all-conference first team. His league-leading point total against GSC team was 235 points and he averaged 20.3 points a contest over the 25-game route. He set one school record and tied another last winter, his 38 points against Southwestern tying Gibson.

Sanders Leading Cajun 2 Strokes

Calif., home, continued consistent putting as he withstood the pressure from a bevy of subpar players.

Rattled at the No. 1 tee when the starter announced his name as Doug Ford, Sanders became further annoyed by a young boy with a camera on his approach shots to the first pin. He chipped to the fringe of the green, then took his five iron and holed out for a birdie three.

On the 525-yard No. 3 hole, he sunk an eight-footer for a birdie four and turned to the gallery and said: "One more, please."

He bogeyed two holes on the front nine but blamed the mull on his choice of wrong irons.

The easy-going Sanders was tied for the lead the first day, and took a one-stroke margin Friday. Sanders, the third-leading money winner on the PGA circuit this year, is in quest of his fifth tournament victory.

Young Tommy Aaron of Gainesville, Ga., who fired a 65 for the day's best round, and Ken Still, the Tacoma, Wash., swinger, were three strokes behind Sanders at 204. Still shot a 68 Saturday.

Defending champion Lionel Hebert, having trouble after his first round 68, was one-over par to trail Sanders by 13 strokes.

A light rain fell during the morning but stopped about the time the leaders teed off.

The final 18 holes of the $15,000 tourney will be played Sunday.

Spartans Win Over Wildcats With Fumbles

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Michigan State managed to convert more fumbles into touchdowns than Northwestern to give the ninth-ranked Spartans a 21-13 Big Ten victory over the Wildcats Saturday.

The first three scores were set up by fumbles.

Spartan seahawk Sherman Lewis, himself one of the ball bouncers, ran for two of the MSU touchdowns.

Michigan State now is 4-2 in the Big Ten and practically guaranteed a first division finish since the opponent next week is Illinois. Northwestern is 2-4.

The game might have looked like a comedy of errors before the 51,403 fans in Spartan Stadium, but it wasn't funny to the tensed up MSU and Wildcat players.

The Wildcats fumbled five times the first half and lost possession four times. Michigan State fumbled three times and lost possession twice.

Northwestern led 7-0 at the end of the first period and MSU had an 8-7 lead at the half. Both teams scored in the third period and the Spartans put the game away by passing for one more touchdown in the final quarter.

Michigan Backs Spark Comeback 23-14 Victory

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Michigan, crippled by a series of first half injuries, struck back with a relentless ground and air attack for three second half touchdowns Saturday and crushed Iowa 23-14.

The Wolverines, whipped physically, and apparently beaten at halftime, was aroused by the devastating runs of Dave Raimy, Dave Glinka and third-stringer Harvey Chapman before 61,925 in Michigan Stadium.

The Hawkeyes seized a 14-3 lead on a pair of long marches in the first half. But Michigan's line held them to a standstill in the second half and the Michigan backs ran wild.

Gabriel Sparks NCS To 38-14 Victory

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — A fired-up Roman Gabriel put on a dazzling offensive show Saturday and carried North Carolina State to a smashing 38-14 Atlantic Coast Conference football triumph over South Carolina.

Gabriel, Wilmington senior quarterback playing his final home game, passed for two touchdowns and the pre-meet social darts to be held at Shreveport next Saturday night.

LANNY JOHNSON, all-GSC States Conference, top conference scorer (in GSC games), and his team's Most Valuable Player, heads the list of Coach Lenny Fant's guards. A three-year letterman, the former Ouachita star and his Indian teammates open their cage season Tuesday night at Arkansas A&M.

son's mark and his 15 field goals in the same game breaking the old standard of 14, also set by Gibson. The 6-1 former Ouachita standout is one of only two seniors on the Tribe squad.

Toms, "Steady Stu," dazzled fans and foe alike with his flashy ball handling last year and clipped in with 12.2 points a game, second high on the team. He hit his peak with a 30-point performance against Northwestern in Monroe. He cracked Freeman's old free throw percentage record by connecting on 85.3 per cent of his charity tosses over the season. He's a 5-10 junior from Quitman.

Snelling, 6-0 of Converse has been one of the team's most improved players in practice this fall and he and 5-10 Salley, all everything in high school, give the Indians a second team backcourt lineup only slightly below Toms and Johnson in quality.

Gamble, the 5-7 peppercorn from Marthville, Spearsville's Lockwood, the biggest backcourtier at 6-3 and 6-0, Crowe, the former Ouachita ace, give the guard positions good depth as do Smith (5-11) of Calhoun and former St. Matthew's stars Biggar (5-11) and Embanato (5-10).

NOTRE DAME quarterback Frank Budka (2) pulls a string of three Syracuse tacklers behind him as he gains nine yards for a first down in the first period of yesterday's game in South Bend, Indiana. Syracuse tacklers are guards Michael Moses (66) and George Frankovitch (68). The fighting Irish went on to win the game 17-15 when Joe Perkowski kicked a dramatic 41 yard field goal after time had run out. (AP Wirephoto)

Buckeyes Power Way Over Ducks

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) — Unbeaten Ohio State, still nursing faint Rose Bowl hopes, overpowered Oregon, 22-12, in an intersectional football game Saturday behind the running of All-America fullback Bob Ferguson.

The Buckeyes, who won their drive in six plays, all on the seventh consecutive game follow. Dick Vanraaphorst kicked an opening season tie with the extra point.

Scrappy Oregon, which almost upset the Buckeyes in the 1958 Rose Bowl, battled back with 48 seconds left in the first half of an 88-yard march in 11 plays, ending in a spectacular pass from sophomore halfback Mel Renfro to end Paul Burlison in the end zone that covered 29 yards.

The Buckeyes wasted no time after intermission. Defensive end Sam Tidmore intercepted quarterback Doug Post's pass on the Oregon 46 to set up Ohio State's third touchdown.

With Ferguson carrying on seven of eight plays, the Buckeyes blasted 46 yards, with the powerful fullback scoring from the six. The conversion put Ohio State in a 22-6 lead. Oregon racked up another touchdown on a two-yard run in the final period.

The Buckeyes, who went into the game tied with Minnesota for the Big Ten lead, closed next week against Michigan where a victory would give them at least a share of the Big Ten title.

WRAP UP BOWL BID

Elmore Carries Ole Miss To 24-10 Win Over Vols

By JOE MCDONALD

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — Sixth-ranked Mississippi virtually wrapped up Cotton or Sugar Bowl bid Saturday, crushing Tennessee 24-10 on the passing of quarterback Doug Elmore.

A sellout crowd of 32,428 saw Elmore riddle Tennessee's defense with short passes to the flat. When the Vols shifted to stop them, Elmore began to run and made a valiant bid to get back in the game in a wild fourth period marked by fumbles, penalties and fighting.

Trailing 24-3, Tennessee scored one touchdown on a 56-yard pass interception by tackle Ed Beard.

The Rebels had a 10-3 lead at the half, scoring on a 32-yard field goal the first time they got the ball and adding a touchdown on Billy Ray Adams' two-yard plunge 1:36 before the half.

The touchdown drive covered 60 yards with Elmore contributing 52 yards running and passing. Wes Sullivan, who kicked the field goal, converted after each Rebel touchdown.

Tennessee got its first carry in the second period on Gary Cannon's 24-yard field goal. Mike Lucci set up the field goal with his one-handed interception of Elmore's pass on the Mississippi 43.

Lucci ran it back 12 yards to the 31 and on a fourth-and-one-foot situation on the Ole Miss 10, fullback Bunny Orr dove over the line for three yards to the seven to keep the drive alive. Two plays later, Woody Dabbs threw Orr for a 4-yard loss and Cannon then booted the field goal.

That was the end of Tennessee's scoring until Beard sprinted 56 yards with his interception with 3:18 left. Mallon Faircloth later hit Charles Wyrick on the goal line with a 29-pass, but a penalty nullified the score and moved the ball back to the 44.

No less shaken were the Purdue Boilermakers, who managed to score with about five minutes left on sophomore Gary Hogan's quarterback sneak from the one-yard line following Hogan's 53-yard pass to second string end Harold Wells.

A journeyman Gopher halfback, Dave Mulholland, actually turned the tide against the Boilermakers, who entered the game a one-touchdown underdog but ranked No. 7 in the AP poll and still holding an outside chance for a Big Ten title tie with a 3-1 record.

It was Mulholland's efforts which set up a 34-yard field goal by Tom Locher at 9:14 of the second period. Mulholland was also the spearhead of a 27-yard strike which enabled Stephens to field only twice under its own score on a 4-yard dash still in the second period.

Although the Gophers went scoreless the second half, their one of Rutgers' infrequent mis-iron-ribbed defenses — best in the Big Ten — had Purdue completely disorganized and without any punch until the desperation long over from the one on fourth down.

Increase Expected In Petrochemicals

CHICAGO (AP)—Petrochemicals to exceed $300 million this year, according to a report by the American Petroleum Institute. Annual capital investments in simple by-products of oil and natural gas have increased expenditures on oil refining expansions the last four years. There is indication the petrochemical investment of $6 to $7 billion will jump to $12 billion by 1970.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—No mundane hobbies for Howard A. Frank, assistant vice president of the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia. He flies a kite.

Aff told a civic club here that he thinks more business and professional people should take up kite flying as a hobby.

A report on the booming growth of petrochemicals was placed before the American Petroleum Institute this week by two New York City engineers.

Henry G. McGrath and Luther R. Hill of the M. W. Kellogg Co. said petrochemicals are well on their way to taking over the major part of the nation's chemical industry.

They said most major oil companies with outstanding financial records the past 10 or 15 years have been in or have developed a strong position in foreign oil or petrochemicals or both.

Petroleum refiners and chemical manufacturers started the industry but petrochemical investments now have been made by rubber processors, shipping interests, metals refiners, steel companies, farm equipment manufacturers and dairy products firms.

Annual petrochemical output now exceeds 60 billion pounds. Major products range from am-

Tito Seeking To Pressure U.S. On Aid

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—President Tito was reported Saturday seeking to line up a united front against big power pressures—especially any withdrawal of U.S. aid from his Yugoslavia—in conferences here with Egypt's President Gamal Abdel Nasser and India's Prime Minister Nehru.

Tito flew here on short notice, turning what had been planned as a brief airport meeting between Nasser and Nehru into a three-power conference of the unaligned.

He and Nasser conferred for nearly three hours and then adjourned for further informal talks over luncheon while awaiting the arrival of Nehru from his visit to the United States and Mexico.

The three unaligned friends are expected to hold long talks Sunday on a range of world developments since the conference of 25 neutral and uncommitted nations was held in Belgrade last September.

At a stop en route at Geneva, Nehru told newsmen how a proposed refueling stop at Cairo had grown into an impromptu conference of three of the world's leading neutralists.

"I had a message from Nasser that he would like to see me," said Nehru. "I replied that an airport meeting was not enough, and I would stay about 18 hours. I did not know Tito would be there."

but I understand that is so." An informed source here said Tito wanted to discuss with Nasser ways of resisting big power pressures, specifically American threats to pull its aid rug from under Yugoslavia, and asked the Egyptian leader to convey his feelings to Nehru.

Nasser then invited Tito to come to Cairo. Tito accepted almost at the last minute, arriving only 24 hours after the visit was announced.

The Middle East News Agency said he may stay on for further talks with Nasser after Nehru leaves. Washington officials have voiced disappointment at Tito's failure to denounce pro-Soviet policies on many issues, especially his failure to denounce strongly the Soviet Union's resuming of nuclear tests in his speech at the Belgrade conference.

Vows Read For Couple At Home

Miss Glenda Carroway became the bride of Billy Joe Ashley on Friday, November 10 at 7 p.m. in a ceremony performed at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Carroway at Winnboro.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Ashley of Baskin. The Rev. Buddy Wright officiated at the double ring ceremony in the presence of relatives and close friends of the couple.

The ceremony was performed before the mantel which was banked with pink roses reflected in a large mirror. Baskets of pink chrysanthemums were placed on either side of the fireplace and flowers were used throughout the home.

Charles Ashley attended his brother as best man.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street length blue frock, styled on sheath lines. She wore a tiny feather hat and other accessories of black.

Mrs. Carroway wore for her daughter's wedding a blue sheath with white accessories and Mrs. Ashley wore a dark blue dress with matching accessories.

A reception was held following the ceremony. The bride's table, covered with a lace cloth over pink, held a central arrangement of pink chrysanthemums. The wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom beneath an arch of pink roses and wedding bells. Mrs. Lessie Sutterfield presided at the crystal punch service and Miss Alice Livingston served the cake. Guests were registered by Mrs. Pauline Ensminger.

Safety Program Presented For Millsaps PTA

A program on Safety entitled, "Safety First" was presented by Mrs. Johnston's fourth grade class at the November meeting of Millsaps PTA.

The program stressed how carelessness can cause serious accidents and in a playlet by the children, they showed means of prevention of many of these accidents.

A Thanksgiving theme was also featured in a song by the second grade students entitled, "Sing for Thanksgiving."

Mrs. Bob Branch, president, conducted a short business session during which time Mrs. John Parks was presented a free subscription to the Parent Teacher Magazine by the magazine chairman, Mrs. Aline Wilhite, for having the most children in school.

Mrs. R. R. Procell, finance and budget chairman, gave a report on the Country Fair held at the school November 3. She stated the budget had not been met and that other means for raising funds would have to be instigated.

F. Robinson was appointed to work on a fund raising project.

Local Garden Club Hears Dr. Wright Talk On Bulbs

Monthly meeting of the Monroe Garden Club was held at Bayou de l'Est Country Club on Monday afternoon at 2:00 p.m. Mrs. Charles Garretson presided over the brief business session. The compulsory attendance amendment to the by-laws was again stressed.

Mrs. N. R. Spencer, program chairman, introduced Dr. John A. Wright of the Department of Horticulture at Louisiana Polytechnic Institute, who spoke on "Bulbs in Your Gardens."

Dr. Wright chose Amaryllis as the chief topic of his discussion and stated in part: "Although the Mead Hybrids which were developed in America are harder, most growers prefer the Dutch Hybrids which are showier and offer a wider variety. Amaryllis may be grown either in pots or outdoors. Good drainage in the growing medium is of utmost importance as is feeding all during the growing season. A sandy soil and at least monthly feedings with a rather dilute mixture of liquid fertilizer is good. In pots the bulbs should be placed half out of the soil, outside they should be covered and mulched, although more research is needed on outdoor planting in our area. There are practically no pest problems with Amaryllis. Occasional aphids may be eliminated with Malathion and the rare fungus disease with Captan. Propagation is by bulb increase, seeds, or cutting the bulb into pieces, each of which retains a part of the basal plate."

Some of the American Hybrids named by Dr. Wright are Strata Belladonna, St. John's Lily, Evening Star, the Senorita group, and Old Lady Dutch Hybrids, suitable for pot culture are White Giant, Snow Queen, Bride'smaid, Queen of Whites, pink Doris Lillian, Pink Perfection, Love's Desire, crimson to dark red, Red Master, Redon, Wyndham Hayward, Franklin D. Roosevelt, bi-color, Apple Blossom, 5 Star General, Candy Cane, Salmon, Salmon Joy, Queen Page, also the Amarrum, which is a cross between the Amaryllis and crinum.

Dr. Wright also touched briefly on the narcissus. In this group are the trumpets, generally called daffodils, which he says are the poorest group for this section.

Perhaps the best of the yellow trumpets for this area is King Alfred Alasnam, is also quite good. Of the whites Mr. Hood is best and of the tri-colors, Mrs. R. O. Backhouse. Other groups in the narcissus family are the large cup type of which Fortune is a good example, the short cup, Dick Wellman, Egwin, Francisca Drake, the doubles, Irene Copeland, the cluster, Thalia and Silver Chimes. One of the difficulties of bulbs coming back is soil.

A sandy soil which drains well is essential. Too much watering in dry weather is also bad. Tops should not be cut from bulbs until they have died.

As to tulips, Dr. Wright stated we must regard them as annuals and replant each year.

After the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Corbin Turner.

Those present included Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Gates, Mrs. Wiley A. Roach, Mrs. Gorman, Mrs. J. G. Haynes, Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Mangham, Mrs. Alice M. Davison, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Turner, Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Pylant, Mrs. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Kilpatrick, Mrs. D. E. Bivens, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Eakers and Mrs. Carr.

Mrs. Billy Lee New Member Of McGuire HDC

Mrs. Billy Lee became a new member of McGuire Home Demonstration club when it met November 9 in the home of Mrs. K. L. Lindsay, 512 Drago in West Monroe.

During the business meeting conducted by Mrs. Joe Rodgers, president, plans were made for the Christmas party.

Mrs. Charles Gorman gave a leader report on Health and Safety. Mrs. Audrey Dawson was the guest speaker and presented a film on Civil Defense, which stressed the need of being prepared in any emergency. The citizenship and civil defense leader distributed pamphlets which pertained to the subject.

A social hour followed during which refreshments were served. Those present were Mrs. Marvin Howze, Mrs. Joe Rodgers, Mrs. Marty Dray, Mrs. Billy Lee, Mrs. Charles Gorman, Mrs. Pat Bardwell, Mrs. Robert Ingram, Mrs. Leon Caldwell, Mrs. James Terrell, Mrs. Danny Sullivan, Mrs. Jessie Martin, Mrs. Don Wills, Mrs. Dawson and the hostess.

Anita Loo's Wardrobe Is Huge Array

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Walking into Anita Loo's bedroom is like walking into a wardrobe. She has 170 dresses, 250 pairs of shoes, 100 sweaters, two mink coats and four mink stoles.

Her collection is so vast that a photographer was unable to get it all in one shot.

Most of the dresses are slit, offering more than meets the eye. In silk-brocaded styles of the Orient. But the sweaters are pure American.

"Chinese dresses and American sportswear are the world's most comfortable clothes for women," says Anita.

QUESTION

How does such a young actress acquire a bigger wardrobe than Elizabeth Taylor?

"Very simple," answers Anita. "I work in such television programs as 'Hawaiian Eye,' 'Hong Kong,' 'Laramie,' and I recently made my American movie debut in 'Experiment in Terror' opposite Glenn Ford."

Then she added: "Does that answer your question?" It didn't.

"Well, then, I must confess. My father is a banker in Hong Kong and I get most of my clothes there."

Anita lives with a younger sister who is a coed at the University of California. Anita, who had acted in many Chinese films, first came to the United States to study drama at the University of California.

"I was a Chinese method actress but, boy, it's a different method from what they teach in America. I became one confused Chinese girl."

It was her good looks, not that, properly executed, the method acting, that landed her in Hollywood. A scout for one of the many Oriental-flavored TV shows made her a new, modern home in a congenial community which, despite its newness, offers the finest facilities.

She estimates that her dresses, complete with hand-sewn beadwork, would cost a fortune if made here. Her dressmakers in Hong Kong charge her about $40 a dress.

Most of her clothes came from the Orient but her friends — mostly American — she dates in a year — include two colonials, a Cape Cod, and other young actors.

Anita comes from a theatrical family. Her mother, Rose Shih, who has acted in Chinese films for years. Another sister, Kitty, is an actress in Hong Kong and still another, Ruby, is a singer in Europe.

Anita got into acting when her father banked a stage show. She was 7 at the time.

"I think I was part of the interest rate," she quips.

"I think one of the greatest assets a young actress can have is a banker for a father."

ADAPTER TO ACT

NEW YORK (AP) — Sydney Smeere is set to act in his own stage adaptation of "This Side of Paradise," the novel that won the Scott Fitzgerald first prize in the Miss Smeere and Paul Boelchle prize in the auto to allow for simultaneous use of biographical work, and Herbert two or more TV or FM sets and a graph is to direct the off Broadway presentation.

NANCY KWAN and William Holden star in the Technicolor love story "The World of Suzie Wong," opening today at the downtown Delta Theatre.

Development Of Housing Is Specialty

NEW YORK (UPI) — The housing development — good, bad and mediocre — has become a familiar landmark on the American scene since World War II.

The arguments for and against these communities within a community are almost as numerous as the communities themselves. There is little doubt, however, that the properly executed, the method acting, that landed her in Hollywood. A scout for one of the many Oriental-flavored TV shows made her a new, modern home in a congenial community which, despite its newness, offers the finest facilities.

ROMANTIC SETTING for Elvis Presley as he serenades Joan Blackman in Honolulu in the romantic musical "Blue Hawaii." The picture, which also stars Nancy Walters and Angela Lansbury, opens Wednesday at the Jim Theatre.

Curtain Call

Well into its third week of rehearsal, "Five Finger Exercise" is progressing toward opening night on Friday, December 1st, which will be here before you know it.

Better start getting your dates lined up. It seems something of a coincidence that Stocker Fontelle, who was with us a few years ago, is putting on "Five Finger Exercise" in Le Petit Theatre in New Orleans. Another former Monrovia, Joe Powell, is producing "Pajama Game" at the Orange, Tex., Little Theatre, beginning December 4th. The Greenville Mississippi Little Theatre is giving "Auntie Mame."

TO PLAY ROLE

Norman Jones of "Pajama Game" fame will play the role of Walter Langer, the German tutor in "Five Finger Exercise." After an absence of some time, Norman is in Monroe again awaiting a call to the armed forces which we devoutly pray will not arrive until after the run of our play. Norman spent last year in New York where no one enjoyed theater more than he. Recently he acted in the Shreveport Little Theatre and also the Memphis Winter Stock Company. Norman, the nomad, we dub him.

Our human dynamo, past president Bob Evans, is ably serving as chairman of the Twin City Civil Defense Committee.

Last week groups from Little Theatre and from Northeast State College met jointly. Outcome — Summer Theater, sponsored by both, is definitely assured for 1962. A play reading committee is already busy making selection for the summer season.

For years Violet Holland has helped make costumes for our various productions, and she is truly an artist at that job. In the time she has given us has never kept her from working in her church. She has just come back from a Southern Baptist Sunday School Board meeting in Chicago at which she was an instructor. After that she gave lectures in four or five places in Illinois. On her way home she stopped in St. Louis and saw "The Sound of Music."

GRAND OPERA

Jim Nuckels, Margaret Fyran and DeWayne May went over to Dallas for grand opera last week end. Board member Sherik Bog an happened to be there, too. Lallage Feazel reports from New York that Slade Brown and Ed ward Padula will open their new musical "All American" on Feb. 22.

Do you suppose they chose that date because it is All American George Washington's birthday? Pretty calculating, these producers — Josh Logan is the director and Ray Bolger the leading man. Very big.

Remember to come to the Play house on Lamy Lane this afternoon for the Autumn Art Show sponsored by the Junior Chamber League from one till four. Every body's coming to be there.

Girl Scout News

Girls of Troop 81 held a meeting at the home of Mrs. Charles Hays as a part of troop program on International Friendship. Mrs. Hays, a native of China, showed the girls clothing, books, jewelry, and furniture, and demonstrated the use of chopsticks.

Mrs. Milton Blue, Mrs. Clint Hanna, Miss Barbara Hanna are leaders of the troop, composed of Lorrie Blue, Ana Elizabeth Hanna, Sheryl Hopkins, Lynn Scott, Donna Morris, Jean Scott, Melissa Thomas, Peggy Ray and Candy Tripp. Troop committee members of Troop 81 are Mrs. T. C. Howard, Mrs. Jack Ray, Mrs. Jack Scott and Mrs. J. E. Tripp.

Among other recent activities the troop participated in the neighborhood playday.

The college neighborhood day at camp was a rainy one, but it takes more than rain to dampen Girl Scout fun! A count of those present showed 103 girls and about 20 adults. "Rabbits in a Trap," singing games, followed by lunch, around a fire in the fireplace, comprised the day. Singing was led by Mrs. N. L. Hucklebee.

Troop 106, Mrs. J. C. Coon and Mrs. Jimmy Dye, leaders, attempted to cook out, but finally gave up and made campfire stew in the kitchen.

Many of the girls taking part are members of the four Browne Scout troops just organized at Sherrouse School and this was their first trip to camp.

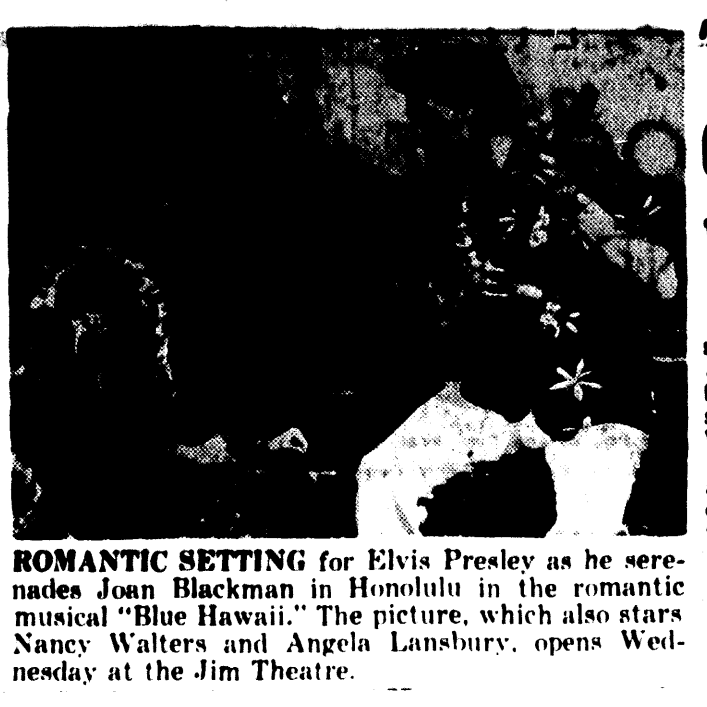

The first of these new troops to complete registration requirements is Troop 42, whose leaders are Mrs. T. A. Morgan, Mrs. E. W. Miller, Mrs. Marshall Williams and Mrs. B. J. Edwards.

Serving on the troop committee are Mrs. T. E. Beeman, Mrs. W. W. Hatcher, Mrs. H. W. Stanley and Mrs. E. R. Cox. The following girls make up the troop: Sherrouse, Suzanne Miller, Lacie Beeman, Susan Stanley, Lacie Williams, Elizabeth Cox, Sandra Edwards, Dena Sutton, Judith Morgan, Judy Freeman, Merwyn Perryman, Nancy Hatcher, Michele Pierce.

A new Browne Scout troop, to a good start is Troop 27, made up of third grade girls or High land and Millsaps Schools. Taking advantage of a school holiday, leaders, Mrs. Kenneth Adams, Mrs. T. G. Head, Mrs. Jack Dew, invited interested girls for a winter roast and an introduction to Browne Scouting. Twenty-six girls attended heard the Browne story read by Mrs. Edward Blackman and made plans to meet at McGuire Methodist Church.

We've heard of plans of several troops for activities this week when a school holiday affords the opportunity.

Green Turtle Faces Tough Return Trail

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP) — Giant green turtles, once numerous but now almost extinct, may soon be cruising the Caribbean again, providing needed food for the poor of a dozen countries.

In years past the armored monsters, weighing 300 pounds or more, roamed the Mexican Gulf and Caribbean, abundant as buffalo used to be in America's West.

Today they have almost disappeared from the area except for a black sand beach called Tortuguero in northwest Costa Rica, and a small and comparatively insignificant breeding ground off Mexico's Yucatan Peninsula.

NESTING HOLDOUT

Tortuguero — Tortuga is the Spanish word for turtle — is believed the Caribbean's last big nesting place.

Dr. Archie Carr of the University of Florida is pioneering a project to protect the remaining turtles, speed up breeding, open new breeding fields, and get the giant turtle armadas sailing again.

The Costa Rican government has promised to protect a five-mile strip of the beach and help with supervision. So far Mexico has done little to preserve its eastern Yucatan grounds.

Milton J. Lindner, regional fishery officer stationed with the U.S. Embassy in Mexico City, said the Costa Rican project could provide Central America and portions of South America with meat.

What Dr. Carr is doing is twofold: first, the Tortuguero beach is being protected from natives, wild dogs and private interests that capitalize on turtle meat exports. Second, thousands of little turtles are being flown to Florida and other spots to launch new breeding grounds.

The Caribbean Conservation Corporation, founded in 1960, assists the project. Already, turtles marked with its CCC racial plaques have been found as far away as Colombia.

Why have the turtles become almost extinct? Although fast and even graceful in the water, they are clumsy and almost stupid ashore where they come to lay eggs. They are easily caught, their eggs easily found.

Meat-hungry natives, wild dogs and other animals have almost wrecked breeding grounds, except in another reason why the giants have almost disappeared.

'Blue Hawaii' Opens At Jim Wednesday

Hal Wallis' "Blue Hawaii," starring Elvis Presley in a Panavision Technicolor production filmed on location in the 50th state, has its local premiere Wednesday at Jim Theatre.

Elvis sings more songs than in any previous picture in his screen career in this Paramount attraction, which co-stars Joan Blackman, Nancy Walters and Angela Lansbury. Norman Taurog, who directed Elvis in his recent hit, "G. I. Blues," also directed the new film.

FREE SINGING

In "Blue Hawaii," Elvis plays a free-singing, ukulele-strumming tourist guide hired to take a group of impressionable school girls on an escorted tour of the islands. A romantic triangle develops involving Miss Blackman, a beautiful French-Hawaiian girl, and Miss Walters, in the role of a vacationing school teacher.

"Blue Hawaii" features 15 songs and musical arrangements, including the title song, "Aloha Oe," "Rockahula Baby," "Beach Boy Blues," "Moonlight Swim," "You're Stepping Out of Line" and "Island of Love." The film also introduces an exciting new dance, "Shien Sand," performed by Elvis and Miss Blackman.

During the location filming of "Blue Hawaii" in the islands, it is estimated that a grand total of 1,485 local residents were engaged to play bit parts. Filming was centered on the islands of Oahu and Kauai.

TOP ATTRACTIONS

Top tourist attractions seen in the film include Waikiki Beach, Diamond Head, Mount Tantalus, Hanalei Bay, Punchbowl and Coco Palms.

Angela Lansbury, Roland Winters, John Archer and Howard MacNear have important roles, along with young and pretty newcomers Darlene Tompkins, Christian Kay, Jenny Maxwell and Pamela Akert.

FOUR FROM LONDON

NEW YORK (AP) — Two more London shows have been added to David Merrick's schedule for future Broadway exhibit.

The musical "Stop the World—I Want to Get Off" and Jean Anouilh's comedy "The Rehearsal" join "Russett" and "Oliver" on the Merrick agenda.

CHOREOGRAPHER DIRECTS

NEW YORK (AP) — Choreographer Jerome Robbins enters the ranks of drama direction with the staging of "Oh Dad, Poor Dad, Mama's Hung You in the Closet and I'm Feelin' So Sad."

The odd drama, written by Arthur L. Kopit while still in Harvard, was tested last summer in England. That production, under another director, was soundly panned by the critics. The sponsors feel a different conception may do the trick here. Broadway arrival is scheduled for February.

IN TWIN CITIES, AREA

Special Thanksgiving Day Services Are Scheduled

Special Thanksgiving Day services will be conducted at churches in the Twin Cities.

Several churches in Monroe will join together for union services at several locations, and a community-wide service is scheduled.

Church Over Goal In Big Budget Plan

The Parkview Baptist Church membership oversubscribed the largest budget it has ever attempted by almost $7,000.

The total of pledges received by November 14, was in excess of $121,000 with still other pledges expected to come in. The budget was set at $115,000.

Church officials said, this is a significant victory since it is the first time in the fifteen year history of the church to pledge more than $100,000 and only the second time to fully underwrite the budget requirements.

This oversubscription of the budget culminated a month of stewardship emphasis that brought a 35 per cent increase in participation over a year ago.

STEWARDSHIP
Leaders in Parkview's stewardship campaign included Jack L. Madden Jr., general chairman; Mrs. F. A. Mathis, campaign officer secretary; T. H. Scott, budget planning chairman; Richard H. Jones, budget pledging chairman; E. W. Crowley, lesson chairman; Richard H. Jones, budget pledging chairman; E. W. Crowley, lesson chairman; John D. Mullins, tally chairman; E. H. "Bing" Miller, publicity chairman.

The Rev. H. L. Sampson is pastor of the Parkview church which is located at the corner of North Tenth and Forsyth in Minneapolis.

many blessings bestowed upon a nation and as families.

"The churches of Monroe invite the citizens of this community to attend services of worship on Thanksgiving Day. Come and join with your neighbors in offering thanksgiving to Almighty God for the precious heritage of our country, for health, friends, food, raiment and all the other comforts and conveniences of life."

Special services for the day also are scheduled at many other churches around the district.

Miss Mooney Is Named To Church Post

The appointment of Miss Margaret Mooney, formerly of New Orleans, as field assistant to the Presbyterian Regional Office of Christian Education in Baton Rouge, was announced recently.

The announcement was made by Dr. Alex Hunter, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of New Orleans, and chairman of the Louisiana Synod's Committee of Christian Education.

Miss Mooney's position is that of assisting the regional director of Christian Education, the Rev. George H. Hicks of Baton Rouge.

FROM TEXAS
She came to Baton Rouge from San Antonio, Texas, where she had been serving as director of children's work of the First Presbyterian Church. She formerly was director of Christian education for the St. Charles Avenue Presbyterian Church.

A native of New Orleans, Miss Mooney received her education at Newcomb College, the University of Oklahoma, and the University of Wisconsin.

During World War Two, she served as assistant field director of the American Red Cross in the Southwest Pacific and later with the New Orleans headquarters of the Girl Scouts of America.

Special Rites For Holiday At Jonesboro

JONESBORO (Special) — A joint Thanksgiving service, sponsored by the Jonesboro - Hodge Ministerial Alliance, will be held at Jonesboro Methodist Church at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday.

W. C. Rundell, principal of Jonesboro Elementary School will preside and E. W. Roden, layman from North Hodge Assembly of God Church will give the invocation. Mrs. Sam Ledbetter will be soloist.

A Thanksgiving proclamation will be read by Jonesboro Mayor L. O. Tait, and a Thanksgiving prayer will be offered by the Rev. J. D. Wagoner, pastor of the Hodge Baptist Church.

In addition to congregational singing there will be a benediction delivered by the Rev. R. B. Moore of the Southside Baptist Church.

An offering will be taken, with the proceeds to be used in behalf of the Exceptional Child School Program, for buying teaching equipment. It will be equally divided among the three schools which have one such class each. They are Jonesboro elementary, Jonesboro - Hodge High, and Hodge Elementary.

Winnfield Sets Holiday Service For Mid-Week

WINNFIELD (Special) — This year's annual Thanksgiving service for the community will be held in the First Presbyterian Church of Winnfield at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Special musical numbers will be provided by a combined choir of members from various churches in this area. Dick Day, choir director of Laurel Heights Baptist Church will be in charge of the music presentations.

The Thanksgiving service worship and message will be in charge of ministers of the Winnfield area who share in the program.

A special offering will be received this year to be sent to Evergreen Vocational Training School for mentally retarded at Minden.

Institute Slated At Church Here

The Institute on Latin America, sponsored by the local United Church Women will be held Thursday, Nov. 30, from 8:45 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. at the First Methodist Church of Monroe.

It will be conducted by Mrs. George W. Pomeroy.

Many Still Build Patios

By MILDRED SWIFT

We're still building patios though they're not used so much in the summer since more families have air conditioned homes. Still there's lots of outdoor cooking that is done in the spring and summer and on warm days in the winter. Also, they're fine for children; when the grounds are too wet for them to be out there.

PATIO PLANTING

In planting around a patio set a few medium size plants to set the basic pattern. Two of our well known plants that can be used here are holly and crepe myrtle. We like for our patios to give us privacy, so that calls for an enclosure, but this does not mean the entire area should be walled in. Privacy can be achieved with plants, fences, walls, vines.

The patio usually extends out from the house. Often we want to break the bareness of the brick wall of the house. Fig vine is excellent for this use because it is dainty, and because it never integrates the brick causing damage.

Escalier plants are attractive on fences or walls or against the house used to enclose that patio.

To give a tropical atmosphere, there's (1) Bamboo, the dwarf variety. This small type stays in clumps and has long lacy spikes. (2) Banana plants, because of the long stems and big leaves. (3) Plants that grow on the other plants in trees, and hanging baskets. Vines for baskets are philodendrons, the hardy outdoor orchids (oncidium and epidendrum). Variegated St. Augustine makes a lovely hanging basket vine.

If one can afford water in the patio, just a trickle will give the psychological effect of coolness.

Vine ground covers, if needed, are excellent patio plants. Use confederate jasmine in this manner. The leather leaf and holly ferns are beautiful patio plants.

Perennials, lilies, tree roses and geraniums in pots can be moved in and out of the patio for winter protection. Rain lilies are excellent for edging or in pots. Palms have a tropical effect.

WAXING FLOWERS

Camellias, susanquas and daphnophyllums are in the garden now. All three of these take waxing easily. Here's the method: Melt and cool the wax, slightly. Dip the short stem flower in the wax, quickly — give it a turn then a shake. Next dip the end of the stem in the wax. The color of the flowers will last a month but the flower will last several years. Dip more than you'll need because you'll lose a few from petal fall.

When you make or buy your large candles, fasten small cages made of waxed blooms to each of these.

The wax you use for the flowers is the same used in candle making. You can purchase this in your food stores.

DRYING ARTICHOKES

Artichokes are so pretty in winter arrangements, just as they are or dried. To dry, place upside down in lukewarm water. Let them soak for an hour. Drain on paper. Next, carefully start peeling back the leaves working toward the center. Leaves will be pliable after the warm water treatment.

After you open the artichoke in that manner, place it on a piece of aluminum foil on the oven shelf. Turn upside down so it will remain open. Leave on the oven shelf with only the pilot light on for a couple of days. This will provide sufficient heat for drying the artichoke without any odor. Such conditions will make the vegetable a beautiful cerise color.

Some are successful drying an artichoke by placing it upside down in a glass and placing the container on the window sill. This will take several weeks.

SPACING PLANTS

Wide spacing of plants makes for finer specimens and makes maintenance of beds easier. Also, plants spaced far enough apart can have a small levee built in a ring around them. This need not be more than two inches high. If it's firmly constructed the area within the levee can be flooded, insuring that every drop of water seeps into the soil instead of running off and doing the plant no good. Such a plan makes watering easier and surer and saves on the water bill.

SNOWFLAKES

Snowflakes (Lencufum) are quaint little flowers that bloom in the spring. If the bulbs are put out now or next month. This is an old-fashioned bulb that our great grandmothers enjoyed and handed down to us. They have narrow strap like dark green foliage which grows eight to 10 inches high. The nodding bell-shaped blooms of the snowflakes are the size of a small thimble, white in color, with a kelly-green calyx and lighter green dot at the tip of each petal. The flowers are nice for cutting. They bloom all through February. They repeat blooms each year and require no digging or storing. They multiply and their requirements are very simple. They'll grow in any type soil.

When planting snowflake bulbs, if you'll put several in the same hole the flowers will show up better. This snowflake is not to be confused with the snowdrop which blooms earlier. They're very much alike.

WATSONIAS

Watsonia grows from corns like gladiolus. Their foliage is much like that of gladiolus. The flowers are similar too, but much smaller and the floral stems are branched, while the gladiolus is most never. They are close relatives to the gladiolus; they bloom early in spring, and do most of their growing in winter. In fact, they grow 10 or 11 months in the year, very much as Easter lilies do. It is time to put out watsonia bulbs or divide and transplant these if you have, if they are too dense. If you should divide these, pass some on to your neighbor.

Fabric finished in this way does not wrinkle when tumbled in an automatic dryer and is not yellowed or discolored by bleach. Chemists at the Agricultural Research Service's southern utilization laboratory in New Orleans use formaldehyde to bind the cotton molecules together. This process is now being evaluated by the textile industry. Although the chemical cost of the formaldehyde process is about the same as for methods currently used, the new treatment takes longer and requires more equipment. Consequently, it might cost the consumer a little more than most other wash and wear finishes.

BETTER COTTONS

A new wash-and-wear finish process, developed through USDA research, promises to make cottons even more satisfactory for clothing, curtains, and other household furnishings.

The new treatment gives cotton a wash-and-wear finish more durable than many other finishes. Fabric finished in this way does not wrinkle when tumbled in an automatic dryer and is not yellowed or discolored by bleach.

PERMANENT PLEATS

In answer to questions in permanent pleats in permanent finished cottons, this is the information. Mix equal amounts of white vinegar and water. Place the garment on the ironing board. Using a sponge, put a small amount of the vinegar mixture on the crease of the pleat. Press until dry. After you've gone all around the skirt, turn to the wrong side and do the same thing. Let the garment hang for four or five hours. Wash. This can only be done with permanent finished cottons. One person misunderstood and tried the process on wool. Results — a ruined skirt.

IT MAY BE WOOL

One of the pleasures of the cooler season is unpacking the winter clothing for the family. All of the lovely wool dresses, coats, jackets, skirts, sweaters that have been stored all summer long in their moth - proofed boxes, we hope, can now come out to see the light of day and resume their busy careers in your life. There's no doubt about it, but wool clothing seems to have a substance and color no other fabric has.

But, if you think that all the wool in your life is not going to be on the active list, then let me warn you now to stop and take a good count among your summer things. Because this is also the time for storing summer clothing and gear, and more of it is probably wool than you remember.

Of course you know what to do about the cottons and synthetics that served so well all summer. You wash them, iron them and pack them away for next year. But you need special treatment to protect your summer things that contain wool.

For example, your new jersey bathing suit probably is part wool. Summer sweaters in bright colors may contain wool, too. Then those lightweight summer blankets and the blankets you use when you go swimming or picnicking. And how about camping equipment like sleeping bags with wool fleece linings, lined knapsacks and white wool tennis socks? All of them should be cleaned or washed, and then carefully gone over with a moth-proofer bomb, before being stored away. Winter is no protection against the heat loving moth, because our homes are just as warm in winter as in summer, thanks to central heating. So remember that the heat that warms us so comfortably all winter long, warms the hungry moth as well.

Right now is the time to take a thorough inventory of all the summer things that make a nest for the moth families who want to settle down. And while you're about it, don't overlook such hidden-away items as Dad's old army uniform, baby's first booties and all the lovely yarn in your knitting and sewing box that you just never got around to using. All of these should be moth proofed for winter safety.

Remember, it's a smart housewife who doesn't let the winter moth pull the wool over her eyes!

SEW SIMPLE

By Eunice Farmer

Tailor Tris Winner of the week is Ann Mitchell, Hollywood, Fla., who offers this suggestion.

"Dear Mrs. Farmer,

"If it is hard to remove creases in a blouse when you are lengthening a wool garment, or crease marks from jersey, take a piece of cotton or small cloth, and dip it in white vinegar and press dry. It removes the crease like magic and will not stain or spot the material."

In case of duplicate winning Sewing Tricks sent to this column, the one with the earliest post mark will be used. All suggestions and sewing tips sent to me will become the property of "Sew Simple" and can be used at any time without permission.

INCREASE SLEEVE

"Dear Mrs. Farmer,

"I sent for your sleeve booklet and have never had such good luck with sleeves before. I was disappointed that you didn't tell us how to make the sleeve larger. All set in sleeves seem to draw across the cap of the sleeve for me and are uncomfortable. Would it be possible to help me with this problem?"

Mrs. R. T.J.

Dear Mrs. R.T.J.: The techniques for setting in a professional looking sleeve are covered in my booklet "All About Sleeves." The problem you have would be a fitting problem and since there could be many of this nature, they were not covered in this booklet. However, this seems to be a problem that affects many women according to the letters I receive, and it is actually not too difficult to remedy.

Fold your pattern across the cap of the sleeve, as illustrated. Mark a new outline for the cap of the sleeve as shown by broken lines. The cap of the sleeve will be wider and allow more room for a larger upper arm. If this is still not enough ease, it may be necessary to add to the underarm seams also. In this case, be sure to add the same amount to the underarm of your bodice also.

"Dear Mrs. Farmer,

"The style this year seems to be the 'Bias' skirt, and my question is how to keep the side columns for future reference in case your question is not answered soon. I would like this fine wool I intend to use, and would the lining be cut on the bias also?"

Mrs. J.S.

STAY STITCH

There are always problems that arise when using the "bias" for any part of a garment. In cutting your garment, you must carefully watch the "Lengthwise grain markings," or else the seams that are to be cut on the bias will not be cut properly. Yes, the lining can also be cut on the bias. You may use a soft lining, or again a rather stiff one, depending on your fabric and also the fashion styling of your garment.

Probably the best tip I can give you, is not to STAY STITCH any BIAS edge. If you are underlining your skirt, be sure the two layers of fabric are biased together smoothly. When stitching any bias seam (this also applies to raglan sleeves), you must stretch the seamline slightly as you machine stitch. In this way you will give your seam the same elasticity the fabric has on the edge. If you erase this seam or stay - stitch first, it will look pulled and drawn, and the seams will "pop" with the least amount of strain.

Be sure to allow your skirt to hang on a hanger for several days before you have the hem marked. When pressing a bias skirt, refer back to my previous instructions and press with the lengthwise and cross - wise grain of the fabric, rather than pulling the skirt from the waistline to the hem, which would stretch the fabric and make an uneven hem.

ELASTIC AVOIDS STRETCH

"Dear Eunice Farmer,

"I thought perhaps your readers would enjoy knowing a little trick I use for keeping the necklines of sweaters in shape. I thread the small, round elastic on a large blunt needle and insert it into the casing at the neckline. It will keep the neck of the sweater from stretching, and if not pulled too tight, it will not show. This can also be done in the bands of "bobby socks" that become stretched out of shape."

Please send all questions and suggestions to Sew Simple, in care of Monroe Morning World.

I regret that letters from our readers cannot be answered personally due to the tremendous quantity of mail sent to Sew Simple. Letters of the most general interest will be answered first, variety that has just been named please be patient and save all the letters for future reference in case your question is not answered soon. I would like this fine wool I intend to use, and would the lining

Tips About Camellias

By AUDREY H. DAWSON

It is true that camellias can be transplanted at any time of the year if they are handled properly and with a sufficient ball of soil. However, probably the best time is November and early December. This is because roots may continue to grow during the winter and such plants are likely to be better established when growth starts in the spring than those plants that are set out later. However, records show that more plants are bought during the flowering season so that means most transplanting is done in January and February.

Good drainage is a must and partial shade is essential for small plants and some shade is beneficial to larger ones. If you have pine trees, this is an excellent place to locate that camellia because this will furnish shade. The next important factor is selection of variety.

The number of varieties is said to run into the thousands. Flowers of camellia varieties range in color from white to dark red. Many are variegated.

Plants vary in type of growth from upright to very spreading and the shape of the plant may be an important factor in determining where it is placed. As camellias bloom at a time when there is likely to be injury by cold they should be planted in locations that give some protection from cold.

If you have room for only a few camellias then another important factor is selecting a variety that is recommended for this area. Your nurseryman will be glad to help you with selections.

Among the not-too-old introductions that are recommended by Dr. Hanchey and Kimbrough of LSU are Tomorrow, Coral pink Lotus, Mrs. D. W. Davis, Vulcan and Guillo Nuccio.

STRAWBERRY PLANTS

November is strawberry planting time and many homemakers grow a nice supply in flower beds. The two varieties recommended by Donald Spurlock, horticultural specialist, are Headliner, and Dapple. Letters of the most general interest will be answered first, variety that has just been named please be patient and save all the letters for future reference in case your question is not answered soon. COURTESY, SHAKESPEARE THEATRE, ST. LOUIS, MO. — A Shakespearean scholarship is being set up in memory of Charles Ochs by the Festival Theatre here and the Avondale Playhouse of Indianapolis, Ind.

The veteran actor died last summer shortly after an engagement at Avondale. The appointment of the award also honors Ochs' "exceptional influence on classic drama and unparalleled devotion to the theater."

Two apprentices at Avondale will be chosen each season for a two-week study course at the Shakespeare festival here.

GARDEN CENTER NOTES

Lafayette Ruffin's Show Impressive

By MRS. JOHN TOLAR

Lafayette Ruffin, from Louisiana, presented a most excellent and beautiful flower show last week at the Garden Center. Ruffin started by showing just how he placed the needle point very lovely and cheerful design.

EFFECTIVE

The next arrangement was in the oriental manner, very simple and yet very effective. Two lovely purple-red mums (Humboldt) were placed in a vertical line in a modified usubata (black in color). The mum foliage was left on for filler. At the base a few ivy leaves were used (the American manner) to soften the rim of the container. The interesting thing about the execution of this design was that instead of a needle-point holder to hold the stalks, Ruffin used a deep container. Light yellow mums were placed high in the design of sugar cane was cut to fit in where a darker and larger mum and placed inside to secure the design. The lighter mum flowers in place. This is handy for a deep narrow container where a needle point holder could not be used successfully.

Another oriental type arrangement was made in a Japanese container, using three (Indiana) mums in a vertical line. For a background for the mums lovely aspidistra leaves were placed tied and overlapping to strengthen the line. Two small aspidistra leaves were placed, one on each side of the base to enhance the beauty of the mums. To the back for a feeling of depth one large leaf of (ficus pandurata) was placed low in the design.

BLAZE OF COLOR

A blaze of color prevailed in the last arrangement. The gorgeous orange-yellow-orange leaves of the crape myrtle, painted by nature's brush at this time of year, was used to form an asymmetrical design (triangle) in a black, Japanese compote container. Within this line were placed a mass of small type mums (golden yellow with orange red centers). To add weight and depth a few deep orange-red black gum leaves were used at the base of the design. One large Japanese persimmon was placed as an accessory at the base of the arrangement, just tying in perfectly with the overall picture of nature's handwork. We should all be inspired after seeing these lovely arrangements. Take a drive into the woods or even about town to look at the beautiful colors of fall. Even if you do not use these leaves in arrangements you'll feel better after having seen them.

China Land Of The Mum

By WILLIAM LANIER HUNT

The wonderful chrysanthemums we grow in our gardens mums mentioned in books about are native to China. They are mentioned as cultivated flowers in the Li - Ki of Confucius of 500 B. C. As with so many Chinese plants, anese varieties were imported by the Japanese who developed them to their highest point in the early 1820s. They were so wild plants, shrubs, bulbs and trees of eastern Asia came to Japan over this natural route.

The Japanese seem to have received their Chinese chrysanthemums about 386 A. D. from Korea. By 797 they had developed this brilliant perennial into their own national flower and emblem. The emperor had it emblazoned on his gates and doors and wrote poems about it. This is why we see it so prominently displayed in Gilbert and Sullivan's opera, "The Mikado." Apparently, the chrysanthemums motif was forbidden to artists at large for some time.

The Japanese, as a nation, cultivated these flowers to a high state of perfection as the emblem of their country. They held their first national chrysanthemum festival in the year 889 A.D. It is to a Dutchman, Breynius, and his book about chrysanthemums published in 1689 that we owe most of our knowledge of the history of this plant.

Three States Represented In Delta Convention Here

"Lovely Louisiana" was the theme of the 27th annual convention of Delta Rho Delta sorority held at the Virginia Hotel November 10, 11 and 12 with Sigma Chapter of Monroe as host.

Delta Rho Delta Chapters represented among the 200 members in attendance were Zeta, Dallas, Tex.; Omega and Phi Mu, Houston, Tex.; Alpha Beta and Lambda, Fort Worth, Tex.; Theta, San Antonio, Tex.; Omicron, Beaumont, Tex.; Iota, Oklahoma City, Okla.; Kappa, Tulsa, Okla.; Epsilon, Shreveport, La.; Sigma Chi, New Orleans, La.; and Sigma of Monroe.

came with a friendship dinner in the Crystal Ball room, presided over by Sigma Chapter's Archon, Mrs. Jean Boyce. Mayor W. H. "Jack" Howard gave the welcome address and following dinner the group was entertained by Fred Asaire dancers.

Delegates were honored with a luncheon and style show on the Virginia Roof dining room. Decorations carried out the Louisiana theme depicting "Sportsmen's Paradise." The style show during the luncheon was presented by Fields of Monroe with models from Patricia Stevens finishing school.

Harry Arthur Genung was master of ceremonies for the Saturday night banquet at the Paragon

Supper Club. Thomas A. Pitt, worthy patron of Sigma Chapter, introduced the principal speaker of the evening, Senator James W. Adcock, whose topic was "Ladies in Politics."

Other speakers were national sorority officers. Mrs. Winnie Thornton, Miss Willie Nash, Miss Frances Ramsey, Mrs. Florence Bovell, Mrs. Ruth Harris, Mrs. Ruby Woodruff, Miss Dixie Marie Nelson and Mrs. Grace Grisom.

Mrs. Marie Wilhite of Sigma Chapter was named Louisiana State secretary for 1962 and Miss Kitty Wingo of Alpha Beta Chapter, Fort Worth, was named National Archon for 1962.

Garland Shell gave a rendition of "Old Man River," accompanied led at the piano by Ronnie Brothers.

Mrs. Mignon Bynum presided over the memorial service Sunday morning at 8 a.m. when Sigma Chapter paid tribute to the late Judge David I. Garrett, who up to his death was an honorary patron.

The general business meeting was presided over by Miss Ann Michel, counselor and was conducted by Miss Frances Ramsey, national administrator from Tulsa, Okla.

The convention was concluded with a Sunday morning brunch on the Virginia Roof dining room. Mrs. Marie Dell Horuff presided. An invitation to attend the 1962 convention in Dallas, Tex., was

Anniversary Event Called Big Success

"A huge success" was the description applied last night to the 156th anniversary celebration of the Greater Monroe Downtown Association. The celebration was a wonder Association, the three-day event full success because all the mer brought thousands of visitors from chants went together and all co surrounding Parishes to the Twin operated in sponsoring the cele Cities to participate in the cele bration." Blumenthal predicted that this success was but a prelude to even greater celebrations in the future.

The event featured old time square dances, fiddler's contests, a mock hold-up of Western Union, historical displays and beautiful sales-girls bedecked in the costumes of past generations.

One of the feature attractions which attracted large crowds, was the Poverty Point Indian relic display brought to Monroe from Epps, Carl Alexander, owner of the valuable collection and a retired U. S. Navy Chief Warrant Officer, cooperated with W. Dunn Transfer and Storage and Central Bank in contribution.

Teachers Meet Begins Today At Shreveport

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — More than 5,000 delegates are expected to attend the four-day 67th convention of the Louisiana Teachers Association beginning here Sunday.

Every phase of state education will be discussed in the general session, and at departmental and sectional meetings.

Public schools will be closed all week throughout the state for the convention and the Thanksgiving holiday.

Gov. Jimmie H. Davis and state education superintendent Shelby M. Jackson are scheduled to share the speakers' platform at the first general session Monday.

The House of Delegates, ruling body of the LTA, will also convene Monday. Presiding will be Mrs. Anne Bart Johnston, LTA president, from Baton Rouge. Sessions of the Louisiana Education Association, the Negro educational group, will be held simultaneously here. Presiding will be Mrs. Clarence M. Collier, president of Baton Rouge.

U.S. Scientists Spurn Embassy Contact Bids

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Former University of Washington scientist Charles P. Jung and his wife have spurned attempts by the U.S. Embassy in Prague to contact them there, an embassy spokesman said Saturday night. Jung, a biologist, and his wife Josephine, a research pathologist, went to Communist Czechoslovakia in October. They announced last week that they wanted to stay there permanently. They declined to give a reason.

The embassy spokesman reached by telephone from Vienna, said the embassy had made every effort to contact the Junges at their Prague hotel, "but we could not reach them."

"We have tried to speak to them by telephone and in person but they were not available," he said. The Junges came to Vienna at the end of September and left for Prague Oct. 1. The University of Washington has dropped them from its payroll.

They died Saturday after a long illness.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. Sunday at his residence and then the body will be carried to the Methodist Church in Pulaski, Miss., for a second service.

The Rev. R. E. Walter will officiate and the Rev. Curtis Motter will assist.

Interment will be in the Brasell cemetery under the direction of Gay's Funeral Home of De Cade.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Lillian Thomas, Delta; two daughters, Mrs. W. L. Chandler, Ft. Donagh, and Mrs. Clyde James, Winnston; and one brother, W. M. Thomas, Jackson.

Pallbearers will be Elmer Gibson, Troy Adams, Hayward John, Harry Church, Richard Ruff, and Adrian Morton.

Actor Shifts Into Family Series Role

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — It's enough to make an actor strip his gears, Andy Duggan's shifting from sex-probing Dr. Chapman to father of a wholesome brood in a family TV series.

Luckily, Duggan is strong, strapping (6-foot-5) and versatile. He looks able to make the transition with no pain, no strain.

Right now the actor is leading a survey of suburban sex habits in "The Chapman Report." As soon as he takes up the facts and figures, he races to resume "Room for One More," which has had one of the strangest histories of any TV series.

It is based on the 1952 movie that starred Cary Grant and Betty Drake, (their first film after marrying). A TV pilot was made three years ago with Richard Long in the Grant role. It never got off the ground.

We did our pilot a year and a half ago," Duggan reported. "We never got a sale, but there were always reports that we were going on the air. So we'd do four or five of the shows, then quit. Then we'd do another batch and quit."

"Now we've got 20 of them in the can, and the show is finally going on the network."

It will start on ABC Jan. 27, occupying half of the Saturday night time vacated by "Boaring Twenties." The long lapse has been both a blessing and a possible blight, Duggan reported.

We've been fortunate to have no interference," he said. "No one can complain about the rating because we don't have any. But it's also a problem because we've been working in the dark. There are no reviews, no public reaction to tell us whether we are on the right track or not. With a comedy show that can be a problem. We have to keep looking back on the shows we have done to see whether things are going right."

Duggan, who lasted only a season on "Bourbon Street Beat," is naturally apprehensive. But "Room for One More" might have a good chance. It's about a couple who take in foster children besides their own two.

Four Persons Killed In Two State Accidents

By United Press International

Three women were killed in a Friday night auto crash and one man was killed in a Saturday morning collision as Louisiana began counting its weekend accident fatalities.

Mrs. J. O. Davis of Baton Rouge, Mrs. Essie Pittman Lantry of Amite and Alice Goldman of Hillsdale were killed in a two-car crash near Pine Grove Friday night.

Mrs. Davis is the mother of State Sen. Jackson O. Davis of Caddo Parish. Mrs. Lantry is the senator's aunt. They were in a car which crashed with another carrying Mrs. Goldman and several other persons.

Philip G. Brown, 24, Shreveport, was killed in another two-car collision in Red River Parish early Saturday. His car was sideswiped by another and crashed into a tree. The Negro driver of the second car was booked with driving while intoxicated and with negligent homicide.

Vidalia School Band Director Receives Honor

VIDALIA (Special) — Vidalia School Band Director Thomas Latham has been chosen as assistant director of the Louisiana All State Band and Jimmy Randall, senior student at Vidalia, has been chosen to play in the band.

Latham will head the percussion section of the state band and young Randall, student assistant director of the Vidalia High School Band, will play the trombone in the all state band.

Director of the All State Band this year is Norman Smith, McNeese State College Band Director. The band met in Shreveport at noon Saturday and is scheduled to present a concert for the general assembly of the Louisiana Teachers Association today.

Local Woman's Mother Dies In South Carolina

Mrs. Roland C. Smith, 87, the mother of Mrs. Charles A. Stratford, of Monroe, died Saturday morning at her home in Greenville, S.C.

Services are to be held in Greenville, South Carolina, and interment will be in the Conestee South Carolina Cemetery.

Survivors include three other daughters, Mrs. J. Homer Williams of Atlanta, Ga., and Mrs. J. A. Greene and Mrs. Marie Summey, both of Greenville, S.C.; one son, Miller W. Smith of Charlotte, North Carolina; nine grandchildren, 18 great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren.

MRS. SOUTH DAKOTA, Lois S. Boyce of Sioux Falls, puts the finishing touches to her hairstyle for the hair-styling event in the Mrs. America competitions at Fort Lauderdale, Fla. Mrs. Texas, Bette Mayfield of Dallas, glances back, at the left. This is the start of the competitions to select Mrs. America next Thursday. (AP Wirephoto)

Some Feel Fallout Protection Useless

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Most people feel that protective measures against nuclear bombs are useless.

That's the response one American county gave when asked by the National Association of County Officials to report on what is being done and what the citizens think about civil defense.

The association sent a questionnaire to 800 selected county leaders throughout the country. From

Thousands See Killer Whale Elude Captors

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif. (AP) — A killer whale thrashed the waters of Newport Harbor Saturday, escaping would-be captors and endangering small craft.

Harbor officials blocked off the harbor's turning basin to small boats as crews from Marineland, and oceanarium 30 miles north of here, tried in vain to net the big mammal.

Thousands of persons watched the whale from the shore.

The whale was identified as a female, 16 to 18 feet long. Her disposition seemed placid until a Marineland crew caught her in a net and almost got her alongside a boat. Then she broke free and charged back and forth across the turning basin, leaping almost out of the water, viciously thrashing the surface with her tail.

Dr. William F. Monahan, Marineland general manager, said the killer whale is "the most vicious animal on land or sea." It is a predatory creature and could kill a man, he said. None has ever been captured, he said.

Two Passengers Are Injured In Auto Collision

A two-car collision in West Monroe Saturday resulted in injuries to two passengers of one vehicle and one of the drivers being charged with reckless driving.

Taken to St. Francis hospital for treatment were A. D. Hart, 70, of Pioneer, and John Hart, 30, also of Pioneer. The elder Hart suffered side injuries.

According to West Monroe police investigation, the two were passengers in a car driven by Euel O. Hart, 28, of Route One, Pioneer. Hart was traveling west on Crusey Street at 12:27 p.m. when he was involved in a collision with a car driven by Henry W. McEnery, 48, of Route One, Box 358, West Monroe.

McEnery was driving north on Cypress street and, according to witnesses, ran the red light. He was charged with reckless driving.

Negro Youngster Dies In Mishap With Shotgun

WINNSBORO (Special) — A two-year-old Negro boy was killed about 2:30 p.m. Saturday while he and another Negro youth were playing with a 16-gauge shotgun.

Lonnie James Campbell, son of George Campbell, of Route three, was in his home playing with a six-year-old cousin, A. J. Hooker, when the accident occurred, according to the Franklin Parish Sheriff's Department.

The boy's parents were picking cotton at the time of the accident and the gun evidently went off while the boys were playing with it. Sheriff's department officials said.

WHERE TO FIND IT

ing zoning requirements, and suggesting special loan concessions by private financing companies.

One reply suggested that the cost of shelters be made a deductible item on federal income tax.

—More than three out of four officials feel there is sufficient interest in civil defense locally to sustain an expanded civil defense program for the next five years.

—On the other hand, the biggest obstacles to such a program are "public apathy, futility or a feeling of it-can't-happen-here," coupled with lack of direction from federal and state (civil defense) agencies.

More than half the responding counties reported they have had a civil defense director for a year or more. Almost half the remainder reported hiring a director in the past two months.

Also, more than half said they had taken action either to increase civil defense staffs, raise more funds or both.

But one unidentified county reported it could only maintain public interest "provided a clear directive from the President of the United States that civil defense is really important to the security of the country and indicating the main things we should accomplish."

There were these other answers: "Our civil defense directors in this state feel they are getting little if any effective direction from the federal government."

"A great deal more must be shown the people on the actual chances of survival as individuals or as groups."

In all twenty-nine counties indicated they want more federal leadership, including more specific instructions from President Kennedy. Many officials said they were confused by the welter of experts making contradictory statements about fallout and other aspects of civil defense.

A number of counties reported they were trying to stimulate shelters from property taxes; eas-

Gill To Testify At Foreign Oil Imports Probe

BATON ROUGE (AP)—Foreign oil imports originally were designed to supplement production in this country, conservation commissioner James Gill said Saturday, "now they are supplanting our production."

This is one of the vital issues confronting Louisiana today, he said.

And the reason is very simple. Last year 48.1 per cent of the state government's revenues came from oil and gas.

Gill is one of the witnesses who will go before the House small business subcommittee in Washington in a thoroughgoing probe of the government's program for mandatory control of oil imports.

Gill is scheduled to testify in Washington on Jan. 8. The subcommittee hearings begin Monday, with 35 witnesses called.

The hearings starting Monday probably will last about a week, and when they resume in January, members of Congress are expected to be heard. Gill will be in Washington at that time.
